GOVERNMENT OF BRITAIN FACES TEST

MacDonald Expected to Have Difficult Battle Over Finance Bill—Liberal Support Doubtful

CONSERVATIVES SEEK CHANCE FOR CENSURE

Opposition Parties Doubt Simon Report Will Be Placed Before Round Table Conference

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 8.—The lobbies of Parliament are buzzing with excitement. Imagine is the MacDonald Government tomorrow faces, in the House of Commons and in the North Norfolk by-election, two of the most critical tests in its history.

Tomorrow will bear discussion of the finance bill. Political circles are convinced many of the Liberals, contrary to later-day practice, will vote against the Government. The temperature between Liberals and Labor has suddenly dropped, and one of the reasons, it is understood, is a disagreement between Prime Minister MacDonald and the Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader, over measures to help remedy the unemployment situation.

It was only a few weeks ago that Mr. Lloyd George pledged the support of the Liberals in any "sound, effective scheme" to deal with unemployment. Now the situation is again changed, and the Liberals cannot easily forget that they have received no satisfaction from the Government in their demands for electoral reform which they, more than any other party, would stand to benefit.

Dr. Manion will address a big Conservative rally in the Royal Victoria Theatre.

PREMIER OF FRANCE WINS HOUSE TEST

Tardieu Government Withstands Severe Assaults—Has Margin of Only Seven in Senate

RELIGIOUS ISSUE IS CAUSE OF BIG CLASH

House in Turmoil When Narrow Majority Announced — Opposition Active

(Associated Press)

PARIS, July 8.—Twice during the same day and once in each House of Parliament, the Government of Premier Andre Tardieu withstood energetic assaults of its opponents and emerged victorious. Its margin was the narrowest in the Senate, where it prevailed by only five votes.

The clash in the Senate was provoked when the Opposition raised the question of laicization of schools in Alsace-Lorraine, where religious instruction has for a long time been banished from the schools, but the religious issue is often raised for political purposes.

The leaders of the Opposition cleverly utilized the question today in an attempt to defeat from the Government those moderate Radicals who are faithful to the idea of excluding religion from public education and of rendering all grades of instruction free for everybody.

The attack on the Government was based on a charge that a prefect in the Department of Gers had forbidden functionaries to attend a

JOHN Raymond Le Huquet, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. La Vergne La Huquet, 1874 Forrester Street, who won the grand prize in the international photo contest conducted by the Photographers' Association of America, as the "most attractive child in America." The photograph was taken by Robert Fort, a specialist in children's camera studies, with studios on Yates Street. A cheque for $1,500 was handed to the proud parents of the boy on Monday evening, at the Royal Theatre, by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada.

Jean Mermoz Hops Off on Nonstop Flight to Africa

(Associated Press)

PARIS, July 8.—A wireless message from Jean Mermoz, French air mail pilot attempting the first eastward flight across the South Atlantic, today reported all was well aboard and that he expected to reach Port Etienne, Cape Verde Islands, or direct for Dakar, French West Africa, according to weather conditions. The message was timed 12:45 a.m. Greenwich Meridian time and this probably was Greenwich Meridian Time (7:45 p.m. Tuesday E.S.T.)

NATAL, Brazil, July 8.—Roaring down the length of Lat. South on the seaplane with which he made the first westward South Atlantic mail flight, Jean Mermoz, crack French air mail pilot, took off this afternoon for a nonstop flight back to Africa.

Eighteen hundred miles of ocean separated him from his objective, Dakar, in French Equatorial Africa. The South Atlantic never has been successfully crossed from west to east. The airmen apparently is intended to show the feasibility of regular air mail service across the South Atlantic.

HOPES TO BETTER TIME

Mermoz, who got away at 4:35 p.m., hoped to better the time of the first flight. On the first

$690,000 JEWELS STOLEN AT PRAGUE

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 8.—Jewels, worth $690,000, according to the police, were stolen in the night from the suite of Miss Clara Ingram, of Chicago, in the Alcron Hotel here. A $250,000 pearl necklace was among the articles taken. The foreign police have been notified.

10,000 WELCOME SOUTHERN CROSS

Santa Maria, California, Tenders Rousing Greeting—Plane Is Returned to U. A. Hancock

SANTA MARIA, Calif., July 8.—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, after presenting his famous plane, the Southern Cross, to G. Allen Hancock, backer of the transpacific flight here today, flew to San Simeon, Calif., for a holiday.

The return flight of the ship tomorrow will end its career.

With Kingsford-Smith on his last trip to the south seas were two other members of the crew which flew the Southern Cross from Australia to San Francisco, Capt. J. Pelly Gall, first navigator, and John W. Stannage, radio man, and Mr. and Mrs. Hancock.

The Southern Cross arrived here from San Francisco and was greeted by 10,000 persons.

MAY ENTER MUSEUM

Hancock and the commander exchanged hearty greetings, after which the plane formally was given to the backer of its most spectacular flight, from Australia to Spain to California to Australia in 1928. Hancock said he planned to place the Southern Cross on display at an aviation college he founded here, and later might place it in some museum.

Upon their return here, Kingsford-Smith and his two crew men will rest a few days and depart for New York and London. Kingsford-Smith said he is anxious to return to Australia.

Everett Van Dyk, the Dutch cowpilot on the Atlantic flight of the Southern Cross, already is en route to Holland.

Three Children Perish in Fire In Alberta Home

CALGARY, July 8.—Alone in a blazing house, three children, aged ten months to four years, perished here tonight when fire completely gutted their home. By a stroke of fate, the oldest of the four children was absent from the home when the fire broke out. The dead are: Birdie Gillard, aged four years; Eileen Gillard, aged two years; Allan Gillard, aged ten months. While the children died in the flames, their father was selling provisions at the exhibition grounds. He was horridly called home.

PLEA MADE FOR RATIFICATION

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Ratification of the London Naval Treaty was urged before the Senate in the opening debate today by Senator Swanson, Virginia, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations and naval committees, but the treaty was soon submerged in a quarrel over the right of the Senate to documents relating to the London parley.

St. Lawrence Hydro Development Will Cost $274,000,000

Report of Parley of Canadian Section of Joint Board of Engineers and Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, Who Probed Deep Water Navigation and Power Possibilities of River, Given

Chrysler Island Plan Is Strongly Recommended

By W. W. MURRAY
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

OTTAWA, July 8.—A double stage deep-water navigation and power development, costing in the neighborhood of $275,000,000 or $281,363,000, according to certain alternative features of the project, is envisaged in the report of the conference between members of the Canadian section of the joint board of engineers and representatives of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, who investigated the deep-water navigation and power possibilities of the St. Lawrence in the International Rapids sections of the river.

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission was represented at the conferences by Dr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer, and Dr. T. A. Hogg, chief hydraulic engineer. The Canadian members of the joint board were D. W. MacLachlan, of the Department of Railways and Canals; Brig.-Gen. C. H. Mitchell, of Toronto, and O Lefebvre.

UNANIMOUS REPORT

The report, which was the unanimous recommendation of the conference, was made public from the Prime Minister's office this evening.

The conference was called with a view to examining the engineering difficulties involved in the deepening of the St. Lawrence and to the development of power thereon.

The development recommended differs in some minor respects from the double-stage scheme suggested by the Canadians in their conferences with the United States section of the joint board several years ago, and which was described in the main report published in 1926. In that particular report the Canadians submitted two schemes.

THE FIRST SCHEME

The first of these contemplated a double-stage development scheme, with the first stage at Barnhart Island, near Morrisburg, Ont., and the lower one at Barnhart Island, about two and a half miles above Cornwall, Ont. As an approach, the Canadians submitted the alternative project of installing the first stage at Chrysler Island, about three miles downstream from Morrisburg.

The present conference report now definitely recommends this Chrysler Island development in preference to the Cedars Island one. The second stage remains as before, at Barnhart Island.

Alberta Farm Escapes Hail In Odd Prank

WINNIPEG, July 8.—The storm which swept across the prairies today played a prank as it passed over the Shrarduren district of Alberta. A farmer in the centre of the gale's path reported that while lands escaped practically unscathed in the miniature cyclone it left into sections and roared on in destructive way. Neighbors living immediately north and south of this lucky farmer suffered crop damage ranging from 50 per cent to total loss.

FOUR ESCAPE MIRACULOUSLY IN CAR CRASH

Two Automobiles Reduced to Pile of Junk Following Head-On Collision on Rithet's Hill

FIRST AID GIVEN BY SAANICH POLICE

Despite the fact that the cars in which they were riding were reduced to little more than a mass of junk, four persons miraculously escaped death in a head-on collision on Rithet's Hill yesterday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock.

The injured were:

O. Brand, 1419 Stanley Avenue, cuts, bruised and lips, shinned nose and loss of teeth.

Mrs. Brand, 117 Superior Street, bruised right leg at the hip.

LAVA CONTINUES TO FLOW IN THE CRATER OF MOUNT VESUVIUS

NAPLES, Italy, July 8.—Boiling lava tonight continued to flow in the crater of Mount Vesuvius, which on Monday broke into eruptive activity, but issued from a single mouth instead of, as on Monday, from three mouths.

In twenty-four hours the sum covered by the flow doubled, but the explosive activity of the eruptive cone continues moderate, and Alessandro Malladra, director of the Vesuvius Observatory, believes it eventually will die without causing serious damage.

Medium Says She Received a Message From Conan Doyle

SPOKANE, Wash., July 8.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's first message from the spirit world was interpreted today by the Rev. Cora Richmond Smith, but the many years a medium here, she avers in an interview published over the Spokesman-Review.

"There may be a lot of fool mediums who will claim they received a message from Sir Arthur," she said, "I do not claim that. I received a message from Conan Doyle no doubt was intended for his family."

The Rev. Miss Smith had written down the message at her séance.

"Am greatly pleased with this strange new country. It is more beautiful than I had dreamed of. Through the golden light around me I can behold the faces of my beloved ones who were waiting for me. They took me by the hand at arrival and greeted me with their smiles and love. Their rooms were filled with my favorite flowers, and now in this land where they never fade, he is resting and is supremely happy in the presence of the beloved son who gave the proof to him that there was another country."

She explained the change from the first to the third person by saying the closing part of the concluding sentence evidently had come from a spectator in the spirit world.

Fire Destroys Lumber Plant; Heavy Damage

JUNCTION CITY, Ore., July 8.—Fire today destroyed the Burton Lumber Company plant near here, entailing a loss estimated at more than $100,000.

The fire originated in a defective flue box and spread so rapidly that the entire mill, built of timber, before the fire department arrived. Three hundred men kept the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Main Battle of Federal Election Campaign Will Be Fought in Ontario

By GORDON HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

OTTAWA, July 8.—Ontario holds the key to the riddle of the general election campaign. Here the conservative and Liberal campaign headquarters alike, the main battle will be lost and won. In spite of the efforts of both organizations

And with the fifty-eight-day campaign entered well into the second half of its course, both sides are beginning to balance their chances in the province of Ontario, home of the Ontario result, differ widely.

Liberals think they may lose a few seats here, gain a few seats there, and in the main come back both from Ontario and the Dominion as a whole about as strong as they came out. Conservatives believe they will make heavy gains in Ontario. In the general elections of 1926, Ontario returned 59 Conservatives and 25 straight Liberals. A year earlier, Conservatives had taken 68 Ontario seats, Liberals only 13. In the present campaign, Conservatives are estimating a net gain of seventeen Ontario seats, giving them a total of seventy, two more than they had in 1926, and only four less than the Union Government secured in the general elections of 1917.

MINISTERS TO BE DEFEATED SAYS PREMIER

Hon. H. Ferguson Predicts Three Ontario Members of Federal Cabinet Will Lose Seats July 28

SPECIALLY REFERS TO HON. P. HEENAN

PICTON, Ont., July 8.—Addressing Conservatives gathered here to select a candidate for the riding of Prince Edward-Lennox, Premier G. H. Ferguson predicted three Ontario members of the Dominion Cabinet will lose their seats on July 28. He made special reference to Hon. Peter Heenan during his speech and the Minister of Labor, he said, was one he felt would not be returned.

Answering Premier King's statement that the Ontario Government was largely responsible for the delay in the St. Lawrence development, Premier Ferguson said: "It is the function of the Dominion Government and of Premier King, it is not the function of the Provincial Government. Never until the present Liberal Government came into power had any Federal administration challenged the province's right to waterpower development."

Turning to unemployment, Premier Ferguson believed that if something was not done to remedy conditions, "we believe that the country would experience conditions next Winter such as were prevalent in the early seventies, "when Sir John A. Macdonald found a remedy, in gratitude for which the people kept him in power for seventeen years."

Famous Novelist to Be Buried Today

LONDON, July 8.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle will be buried Friday in the garden of his home at Crowborough, Sussex, a few yards from the outdoor study where the creator of Sherlock Holmes spent many days devising plots for his stories.

Lady Doyle and the family, in choosing the situation of the tomb, made it plain they wished the funeral to take place within the grounds of the estate. There will be no church ritual and the burial ceremony will be entirely conducted by the side of the grave.

PREMIER MINISTER TO CANADA NAMED

Arsene Henry, Distinguished Diplomat, Will Succeed Hon. Jean Knight in Post at Ottawa

(Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)

PARIS, July 8.—The Quai D'Orsay has submitted the name of Arsene Henry, now a French Minister to Siam, to the Canadian Government for approval as the next French Minister to Canada, succeeding Jean Knight, the first Minister of this post, is returning to France to become head of the French Government's Far East section.

Arsene Henry is a distinguished diplomat. Born in 1881, he embarked on a diplomatic career in 1906, receiving his first appointments on the French diplomatic service staffs at Tangiers, Lima and Bucharest.

Promotion came in 1920, when he was appointed first secretary at the French embassy in Tokio. The following year he became charge d'affaires at Tokio. He fulfilled the same function at Copenhagen in 1923, at Belgrade in 1924 and at the Vatican from 1925 to 1928. He was appointed French Minister to Bangkok, Siam, on April 14, 1928.

FISCAL PROGRAMME OF GOV'T ATTACKED

By THOMAS GRIEV

INVERNESS, N.S., July 8.—In clear-cut and emphatic terms, Hon. R. B. Bennett here tonight and earlier at St. Peters, dealt with railway facilities on Cape Breton Island, the fishing and agriculture industries and the protection of Canadian labor. At the same time, he renewed his pledge for a national fuel policy and the development of Canadian trade through Canadian ports.

"These old provinces, these old communities," the Conservative chieftain exclaimed, "must not be neglected in the providing of railway facilities. They must be provided, because you have a right to them. You have maintained and

RESOURCES BILL NOW AWAITS ONLY ROYAL SIGNATURE

LONDON, July 8.—The House of Commons tonight gave third and final reading to the British North America Bill. This bill amends the British North America Act, taking cognizance of the arrangements effected between the Canadian Federal Government and the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta for the return of their natural resources to these three Western provinces.

It also deals with the return of certain Crown lands to the jurisdiction of the province of British Columbia.

The bill had already passed through all stages in the House of Lords. It now only awaits the royal signature to become law.

JUDGMENT CONFIRMED

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, July 8.—The judgment of the Appellate Division of Ontario is confirmed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today in the Lake of the Woods water diversion case. The Judicial Committee dismissed the appeal of the Keewatin Power Company, in which the Lake of the Woods Milling Company and Keewatin Flour Company were respondents. The power company had sought to prove there was wrongful diversion of water.

HAIL DAMAGES PRAIRIE CROPS

Storm Levels Thousands of Acres of Grain in Strip Across Three Wheat Provinces

HEAT RESPONSIBLE FOR THREE DEATHS

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, July 8. — Downhearted farmers in the West tonight assessed the heavy toll of hailstorms which raked across three provinces, from Eastern Alberta in a jagged damage line southeastward to Central Southern Manitoba. Hail wrecked promising crops in many areas and caused partial loss in extended sectors. Intense heat caused one death in Saskatchewan.

Probably the most depressing damage was caused in the Springwater zone of Northwest Saskatchewan, where the wheat lands of the district had promised to duplicate the 500,000-bushel bumper yield of two years ago. For twenty minutes, hailstones an inch in diameter beat down on farms and gardens. Crops in a fourteen-mile strip, six miles wide, were wholly or partially ruined and hundreds of window panes and auto windshields were shattered.

RUINED CROPS IN WAKE

At its westward extremity, the damage area touched Czar and Provost, in Northeast Alberta. Hail tore fifty miles across country, leaving a ten-mile band of ruined crops in its wake near Provost; in this sector, damage varied from 10 per cent to 100 per cent, but around Czar, close to the Saskatchewan border, the land is not heavily cropped and losses were correspondingly light.

Sweeping eastward into Saskatchewan under the force of a near-cyclonic gale, the storm spread wider in extent as it tore into the sulphur springs area, where about one-half of the acreage was ruined.

HEAT KILLS THREE

WINNIPEG, July 8.—A merciless sun beat down on the Canadian West today, hanging up high temperature marks for the season at some points and taking a toll of three lives.

Seeking to escape from the oppressive heat, George Dickson, eleven, and John Sutton, twelve, Winnipeg Boy Scouts, sought the cool waters of Lake Winnipeg and were drowned. Sutton died in an attempt to rescue his little chum, who presumably suffered a cramp.

Heart attack, aggravated by the intense heat, caused the death at Moose Jaw of Mrs. Alfred Statham. She had collapsed two hours previously as Moose Jaw thermometers raced up to 92 degrees.

A new high record for the Summer promised to be set up in Winnipeg with temperature readings hovering around the 90 mark soon after noon. May 21 holds the seasonal record of 91 degrees. High humidity added to the discomfort of Winnipeg's populace.

American delegation, Senator Swanson put the case of the treaty proponents with the plea that ratification was in the best interests of the United States, both "from a selfish, military standpoint," and from a "higher and nobler purpose."

As the Virginian concluded his two-hour address the Senate reverted to its dispute over the McKellar resolution, requesting President Hoover to give the Senate all papers and documents relating to the pact.

VOTE NOT REACHED

Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, who is in charge of the treaty, announced he was willing to accept the resolution, but after three hours' debate, led by Senators Johnson, Republican, California, and McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, the Senate adjourned without reaching a vote.

Borah suggested an amendment to the McKellar resolution to request the papers "if compatible with public interest." McKellar refused the amendment and Senator Robinson, Arkansas, the Democratic leader, proposed the amendment, but no vote was reached on that either.

Fare Not Fear Keeps From the Air

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—A rate of seven cents per mile for air travel has been put into effect by the T. A. T. Maddux Air Lines, an increase of two cents over the Winter rate established January 14. The low Winter rate experiment "proved beyond doubt," the company said, "that it was 'fare not fear' which kept most travelers from using airlines."

crossed from Saint Louis, Senegal, in twenty hours and sixteen minutes.

For hours he and his comrades today sat in their seaplane on Lake Bomfim and whistled for a wind which they had to have to get the big seaplane and its 600 pounds of air mail off the water. The plane and its load weighed nearly six tons.

Three dispatch boats of the Aero-Postal Company, which in normal times speed across the South Atlantic in relays with the combination air and ocean mail, were stationed along his route from Natal to Dakar. They are standing by to assist the flyers if trouble develops. Mermoz will communicate by wireless with at least one of them at all times.

LANDING FACILITIES

Dakar was selected for the terminus of the flight instead of Saint Louis because it offers better landing facilities in its sheltered harbor.

One of the chief points about his two air mail flights is that they are being made in a standard model seaplane such as is used in the Aero-Postal's regular service.

If conditions are favorable Mermoz will not end his flight with the arrival at Dakar, but changing to another plane will ride the South American mail to Toulouse or to Paris.

GOVERNMENT OF BRITAIN FACES TEST

WILL OPPOSE CENSURE

The prospective importance of the Conservative vote of censure on the tariff question to be moved by Mr. Baldwin, the Conservative leader, at the first opportunity, is beginning to dwindle. There seems a moral certainty that the Liberals will now oppose this motion and that protectionist Laborites will be found too well disciplined to cause the Government's defeat.

On the other hand there is increasing likelihood there will be an adverse vote on an amendment which the Liberals will move on the budget, to exempt new factory plant and machinery expenditure from income tax.

There is also a mutual suspicion among the Conservatives and the Liberals that the Government does not intend to place the report of the Simon Commission before the round table conference on Indian reforms, which is to meet here in the Fall, unless the conference asks for it. This omission would constitute an invitation to the conference to shelve the report.

The Conservatives are strongly opposed to this shelving idea, and, as Sir John Simon, head of the commission, is Mr. Lloyd George's chief lieutenant, no one has more influence in the Liberal party.

INDIAN STATEMENT

Lord Irwin, the Viceroy of India, is expected to make a statement on the subject tomorrow, and should the statement be displeasing to the opposition parties, the fact will likely be reflected in the budget vote.

Finally, the Government's coal mines bill, which has been shuttlecocked between the Upper and the Lower Houses of Parliament for months, is expected to terminate its oscillations tomorrow by the Government deciding to drop it, for the time being at least, owing to the impasse occasioned by the reiterated refusal of the Lords to pass the bill. This action, if taken, cannot fail to arouse the Government's supporters in the House.

Hence the Government's lot as it looks forward to the morrow is like that of the Gilbertian policeman, "Is not a happy one."

W. H. Heath, of Putney, England, and his daughter, Nancy, who took up dancing seven years ago, have just won the world's amateur dancing championship in Paris.

Counterclaim Partly Allowed by Judgment

Judgment in the action of Whittaker vs. Matthews, handed down yesterday in County Court by Judge Lampman, allows the defendant's counterclaim to the extent of $70. The judgment says:

"There is no dispute as to the plaintiff's claim, but there is a counterclaim, and the sole question is as to the merits of it. I think that the defence (against the counterclaim) based on the statute of limitations is not open to the plaintiff, nor do I think the defence based on laches good. The contention is about some oats and a cream separator, and it is alleged that Robert James Matthews (who died in 1927), as an executor of the estate of James Matthews (who died in 1914), received in the Spring of 1924 a quantity of oats belonging to the estate of James Mathews, and failed to account for them, and also that he converted to his own use a cream separator.

"The evidence is not satisfactory—it could hardly be satisfactory with the length of time that had elapsed—and I would not have been sorry if I could have held either or both the defences good. The present defendant, Ambrose F. Matthews, does not seem to have been very alert in seeing that matters were kept straight, and I cannot help but feel that, if Robert James Matthews were alive, his evidence might put a different aspect on the matter. I am not satisfied that the cream separator was of any value, and the most that I can hold as received and unaccounted for by Robert James Matthews is one half of the oats—about two tons—and worth, at the time, $35 per ton. The result is that defendant, on the counterclaim, is entitled to $70."

All Party Nominations For Ontario's Eighty-Two Ridings Completed

TORONTO, July 8.—All party nominations for Ontario's eighty-two constituencies, in the forthcoming Dominion election, have been completed. Official Liberal candidates total eighty with one unofficial candidate running. There are eighty-two official Conservative candidates and four unofficial.

Of the other parties, there are two Communists, one U.F.O., and a Progressive.

Three-cornered contests will not be as numerous as early developments indicated. Only five ridings remain where three-cornered battles loom as probable. These are Carleton, Lambton East, Fort William, Nipissing and Lanark.

Milling Qualities Of Garnet Wheat Meet With Praise

OTTAWA, July 8.—Considerable enthusiasm was expressed among millers of Great Britain and on the continent who investigated Garnet wheat as to its milling qualities. A report by L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, on the result of the investigations of a specially bagged shipment of this blend of wheat overseas was made public today. For a time at least Garnet should be shipped as a separate variety instead of mixed with Manitobas. This would give the millers an opportunity of knowing the variety they were dealing with and they could treat it to the best advantage.

Chemainus Man Kills Cougar Near His Home

CHEMAINUS, July 8.—A particularly fine male cougar was killed on Sunday by T. Porter. The big cat was seen crossing the road near the Porter home by young Tommy Porter while engaged in searching for cows. Running home, the lad advised his father that the animal was in the vicinity. Accompanied by another son and a dog, Mr. Porter tracked the beast for some distance and succeeded in shooting it.

Main Battle of Federal Election Campaign Will Be Fought in Ontario

headquarters expect that the new Progressive movement in Saskatchewan will be likely to make its influence seriously felt in the Saskatchewan returns. Conservatives estimate that they will at any rate recapture the nine Saskatchewan seats, and again Liberals express confidence that they will hold their own.

Taking the Dominion through—with election day still three weeks off—both parties are claiming control of the next Dominion House of Commons. Conservatives estimate from reports they have received up to the present a net gain across the Dominion of thirty-two seats. This would give them a total of 122 seats, or after a Speaker is elected, two short of an absolute majority. But to these 122 straight Conservatives they add a few Progressives of Conservative leanings, on whose support they feel they will be able to count. Liberals estimate that they will return as strong as they came out—namely, 123 straight Liberals with the addition of the nine Liberal-Progressive seats.

By pamphlet, radio and speech the fight is waging in every province in the Dominion. Its fifty-eight days of campaigning make it one of the longest, if not the longest, in Canada's political history. It has still nearly three weeks to run.

"A hard battle," commented Senator Maydon, chief of the Liberal organization, today; and with that Conservatives frankly agreed.

DELEGATION OF REEVES HEARD

Gov't Urged to Assist in Continuance of Annual Exhibition at New Westminster

AMALGAMATION IS AGAIN SUGGESTED

Intimating that more favorable consideration might be given to a request for assistance from an amalgamated fair association, the executive council of the Provincial Government yesterday heard an imposing delegation seeking assistance for the New Westminster Exhibition.

Headed by J. W. Berry, M.P.P., of Langley Prairie, and W. R. Rutledge, M.P.P., of Burnaby, the delegation was composed of reeves of Lower Fraser Valley municipalities and delegates from the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition Association. Spokesmen urged the Provincial Government to assist the fair at New Westminster, outlining the situation which threatens to end the long established exposition.

A fire which destroyed the exhibition buildings last Summer was a serious blow to the association. The fair took place on scheduled dates, but most of the exhibits had to be housed in huge tents and other makeshife structures.

HOUSED IN TENTS

The New Westminster City Council, this year, turned a deaf ear on requests for new buildings, and all efforts to continue the best-known fair in British Columbia, so far, apparently have been without success.

After the delegation had stated its case, the members took their departure on the afternoon boat to Vancouver, and the Cabinet has the matter under consideration, according to Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture.

He stated that no action was taken at the meeting other than to hear the delegation fully, but he intimated that the Government would be more favorably disposed to assist an amalgamated fair board of the Vancouver and New Westminster associations than to encourage continuance of two separate exhibitions.

DEPORT ALIENS URGES LEGION

Duncan Branch Would Repatriate Foreigners Who Might Become Charges

WOULD MAKE SURVEY OF C.N.R. EMPLOYEES

DUNCAN, July 8.—All branches of the Canadian Legion will be requested to endorse a resolution passed at the regular meeting of the branch here Monday, asking the Dominion Government to deport all aliens who are at present or who are likely to become charges upon any Canadian community. This action followed a long and earnest discussion of the unemployed situation.

Captain J. D. Groves raised the question of unemployment saying that the question was one that was assuming grave proportions. The country, he said, was filling up with foreigners who had not served under the flag, and he thought that officials should be appointed to relegally deported. These people would be able to live more economically in their native countries and their absence would create more employment for citizens of Canada.

Comrade Goddard urged that inquiry should be made into the different nationalities of employees of the Canadian National Railways. He believed that a greater proportion of Canadian and British-born should be employed.

Early construction work on such projects as the transcanada and B.C.-Alaska highways was suggested by Comrade Castle as a means of providing more employment. He pointed out that foreigners who were at present domiciled in Canada could not be allowed to starve.

Comrade Ashby replied that usually such works were let out to contract and foreigners were employed at rates of pay and under conditions that would not be acceptable to citizens of Canada of native or British birth.

Admiral Nugent thought that tax reduction on land would stimulate a return to the land movement. He also advocated the establishment of a protective tariff on farm produce.

After further discussion it was decided to ask the support, in the usual manner, of other branches of the Canadian Legion to a request that the Dominion Government deport foreigners who might become public charges.

Comrade George Jarvis was elected chairman of the sports committee and Comrade A. J. Castle, chairman of the dance committee for annual Labor Day celebration arrangements.

The club committee was instructed to ascertain whether a club licence could be obtained, and to report on the finances necessary for the proposed club.

Comrade W. Purver, first secretary of the branch, was the recipient of a small token of regard upon the occasion of the departure of himself and Mrs. Purver for the Old Country.

John D. Rockefeller In Best of Health Upon 91st Birthday

TARRYTOWN, N.Y., July 8.—John D. Rockefeller was ninety-one years old today, but the world in general probably took more note of it than did the retired genius of the Standard Oil millions.

Except in slight details, the day's routine was the same as one hundred of other days since his retirement from active business life twenty years ago.

Miles away in New York, through the offices of Standard Oil, a statement from Mr. Rockefeller was issued. It read:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have had more kindnesses shown me during the past year from every part of the country than ever before in my life, and it is needless to state that I am unspeakably grateful.

"I am in the best of health, surrounded by dear friends, and have naught but good will toward all."

PRISONER BREAKS WINDOWS IN JAIL

Vernon Meadows Stages Second Scene in City Police Court—Remand to Thursday

Vernon H. Meadows, who created a scene when charged, in the city police court on Monday, with causing a disturbance on Douglas Street by shouting, repeated the performance in an exaggerated manner when appearing again yesterday, after a remand had been given him to enable him to obtain a lawyer. Meanwhile, he had not been idle, as was indicated by a new charge brought against him of damaging public property by breaking a number of window panes in the jail and destroying blankets supplied to him.

The prisoner loudly declaimed that the police had not afforded him facilities for telephoning which he desired. In protest he had smashed the window panes. He had, he said, told the police that he did not want any blankets, and when they were given him he had endeavored to burn them. "Your name is Jay, I am told," he said to the magistrate. "You should strive to do good. I am always doing good."

Meadows had obtained a lawyer, and as the latter would be unable to attend until Thursday a remand to that day was given. Meadows also wanted to be let out on bail, and bail was granted in the sum of $50 cash, but, as this has not been forthcoming, it is understood that he is still in custody.

Manslaughter Charge

TRAIL, B.C., July 8.—Victor Hilo, was yesterday afternoon charged with manslaughter following the death of Wilbur Negus in hospital Monday morning. Negus' death followed a collision on Sunday between a motorcycle, on which he was riding, and an automobile, driven by Hilo. Negus was seriously injured and after the accident had a leg amputated.

CHARGES FALSE SAYS THEODORE

Former Treasurer of Australia Gives Clear-Cut Statement in Defence of His Honor

HON. E. G. THEODORE

CANBERRA, Australia, July 8.—A scene of intense drama was witnessed in the Federal House of Parliament today when Hon. E. G. Theodore, who resigned as Federal Treasurer following charges of a royal commission against his former administration of Queensland, made a clear-cut statement in defence of his honor. He demanded the present Queensland Government to make a formal charge against him, or else in some way enable him to appear before some unimpeachable tribunal to defend himself against "calumnies and doubtful charges."

"I have given half my life to public service. I have maintained exalted ideals and kept by hands clean from anything unworthy of my position of trust," he said.

The present situation has monopolized the attention of all Australia. A royal commission appointed by the present Queensland Administration investigated the purchase of the Mungana mines by the former Theodore State Ministry, and declared there were evidences of fraud and dishonesty. Hon. Mr. Theodore, W. H. McCormack, another former Labor State Premier; Petter Goddard, mines manager, and Goddard's associate, Fred Reid, were mentioned in the report. The mines have caused the State of Queensland a loss of at least $5,000,000.

The Labor party, industrially and politically, is solidly in support of Hon. Mr. Theodore.

COMMONS GIVES SECOND READING TO B.N.A. BILL

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, July 8.—The House of Commons yesterday gave second reading to the British North America bill, which had already passed through all stages of consideration in the House of Lords.

The bill involves an amendment to the British North America Act as a consequence of the agreements concluded by the Dominion Government and the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, for the return to these three provinces of the natural resources. It includes also an agreement for the return to British Columbia of certain crown lands.

The British Government is hastening passage of the bill in view of the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of Manitoba's entry into Confederation, which is on July 15.

HIGHER DUTIES ON GRAPES ARE NOW REQUESTED

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, July 8.—Wine manufacturers of the Niagara Peninsula joined with the grapegrowers in that district today in urging that an order in council be passed at once, bringing into effect higher duties on grape juice concentrates. During the last session of Parliament an item was inserted into the tariff making the duty on grape juice 25 cents a gallon when the juice was not more than 1.074 specific gravity. Parliament left the bringing into force of this change to an order in council.

It was estimated in evidence given before the tariff board today that concentrates made from California grapes could be brought into Canada under present duty at what would correspond to $32 a ton for fresh grapes, whereas grapegrowers in the Niagara district had been guaranteed $65 a ton for their grapes this year. California grape growers had a large surplus as a result of the Volstead Act and under the law against allowing foodstuffs to be destroyed, they were granted a subsidy to help them manufacture grape concentrates.

The duty which the Niagara interests proposed would approximate $40 a ton, and wine manufacturers assured the board this would be sufficient to shut out concentrates at least to a considerable extent.

The claims of the growers for increased protection were urged by various associations in the Niagara district as well as by letters from British Columbia growers, both of grapes and loganberries. Commissioner Jacobs, of the tariff board, also reported on an investigation he had made in British Columbia.

Hector Racine presided at today's hearing, the first since W. H. Moore, former chairman, resigned to enter the general election campaign.

BERRIES WILL BE SENT TO JAMAICA

Trial Shipment of "Straws" May Result in New Market for British Columbia Product

Looming as another possible trade channel from British Columbia, an experimental shipment of strawberries will be made shortly to Kingston, Jamaica. The shipment has been arranged by Harry Hastings, of this city, in co-operation with the markets branch of the Department of Agriculture.

The berries will be sent in barrels and sugared down, so that, on arrival in the West Indies, it will be necessary only to bring them to a boil and place the jam in containers that conform with the market requirements of that country.

The Kingston firm, in a letter to Mr. Hastings, stated that it was hopeful of eventually arranging for shipments in ton lots.

It was stated also that business interests are endeavoring to have direct steamship facilities to British Columbia provided. In this drive the newspapers of Kingston are lending strong support. At present shipments from Kingston must be trans-shipped, as there is no steamship line to this port with Kings ship line to this port with Kingston as a port of call.

VATICAN CITY, July 8.—Cardinal Vannutelli's heart weakened during the night. This morning he received holy communion and the extreme unction.

Cardinal Vannutelli, who is ninety-three years old, was reported yesterday to have suffered an attack of uremic poisoning. He is dean of the Sacred College.

After receiving the last sacraments, the aged cardinal had an attendant telephone the papal secretary of state asking that the Pope send him the apostolic benediction. It was reported the pontiff had gladly acceded to the request and was praying most fervently for the cardinal's recovery.

MR. MACKENZIE KING'S FAILURE

Mr. Mackenzie King in his Monday night speech at the Royal Victoria Theatre said there is only one issue in the present election, namely, the Budget. In his Brantford speech, with which he opened the present campaign, he was insistent on there being three issues before the people, the other two being his Government's record and those who will represent Canada at the Imperial Economic Conference. As he progresses through the country he prefers to narrow the issues. Possibly he has found that his Government's record has unsavory features in the estimation of the public some of which he thinks should be forgotten. Then, again, representation at the Imperial Conference is not an issue at all. Why should it be? It would be just as pertinent to say that Canada's future representation in the League of Nations is being voted upon in the election of July 28.

There are several issues in the present election and they are interdependent. Primarily, there is the trade policy of the present Government. That policy, through lack of adequate protection for Canadian industries, has failed to provide enough work for Canadians. As a result hundreds of thousands of our citizens crossed the international boundary in search of a livelihood. The Dominion, in approximately nine years of Liberal rule at Ottawa, has lost 1,300,000 citizens who might have been retained here to assist in the country's development had a truly protective fiscal policy been pursued. Because, too, of lack of vision at Ottawa the country was faced last Winter, and is faced still, with a serious unemployment problem. To solve this the Dominion Government has done nothing although it is responsible that such a state of affairs should have arisen.

The outstanding feature of the Dunning Budget is the extension of British preferences. In the ardor displayed by the Finance Minister to elaborate a vote-catching scheme he even accorded preferential treatment to articles which Canada does not import from the Motherland. The secondary feature in the Budget is the countervailing duties. These constitute the Federal Government's reply to the Hawley-Smoot Tariff, but, as far as their effectiveness goes, they do not speak in terms above a whisper. The British preferences may conceivably mean more British imports to Canada. They do not, however, mean more employment for our citizens. They will mean that this country is likely to go on increasing its adverse balance of trade. On the other hand the Federal Budget has been designed with the desire to give no offence to the United States. The trade of Canada with that country, all prognostications to the contrary, will not suffer one iota because of countervailing duties, which "may" be applied. That "may" would not become a "must" under the Mackenzie King regime, unless indeed the whole structure of its policies in the past is shaken to its foundation.

That scriptural phrase, "by their fruits ye shall know them," is especially applicable to politics and to the record of politicians. Mr. Mackenzie King said in his Victoria speech that the economic future of the British Empire might be decided by Canada's vote on July 28. We are prone to think that there is greater truth than political acumen in his remark, but not in the way he believes. His Government has failed to forward the economic unity of the Empire. During its regime Canada's imports from the United States have increased by over $400,000,000 while those from the Motherland have only grown in value by $40,000,000. In the face of these figures his protestations that his policies have been shaped for the development of the economic unity of the Empire must be taken with large doses of salt. The facts of the situation do not indicate that Mr. Mackenzie King has been the supporter of inter-Imperial trade despite his pose in the present election campaign. Liberal tendencies, in a fiscal sense, have been eminently pro-American and any observer must be at a loss to determine how such policies will foster Empire trade. If the verdict of July 28 is as fateful as the Prime Minister would have us believe then it is so because the people of Canada are to determine whether they will go on trading more and more with the United States, under Mr. Mackenzie King, or more and more within the Empire and with the rest of the world, under Mr. R. B. Bennett.

There is one feature of Mr. Mackenzie King's speech in Victoria which is in line with the record of his Government. He burkes the question of unemployment. His Administration has sidetracked this problem as non-existent during the past twelve months. Now he says it is a provincial affair. This is tantamount to ignoring the fact that it has been the fiscal policies devised at Ottawa which have led to a large exodus of our people to the United States, and, at the same time, promoted unemployment among those left behind. Mr. King now prefers the extraordinary requests that the Provincial Governments should pull his political chestnuts out of the fire. The request is all the more absurd when it is uttered in British Columbia for it may be recalled that the Prime Minister specifically stated, and repeated, in Parliament that he is not prepared to give a Tory Government in the country a five-cent piece to help in alleviating the distress occasioned by unemployment.

Despite specious phrases and the rotundity of explanation that invests Liberal utterances in the present campaign those who are correctly informed as to the past trade record of the Liberal Administration will be inclined to judge whatever promises of reform it makes in the light of a deathbed repentance. No Liberal speaker has attempted to show the manner in which the incidence of the Dunning Budget will affect the industrial prosperity of Canada. The whole subject has been dealt with in a series of glittering generalities, of which, without a question, the most turgid has been the statement of the Prime Minister that, "the economic future of the Empire may be largely determined by the result of the poll on July 28."

Mr. Mackenzie King will, no doubt, recall his Virgil — dolus versatur in generalibus. Should he really believe that the Dunning Budget is a momentous document let him get down to cases and tell the people of Canada what it will accomplish to conserve and develop the resources of the Dominion so as to put an end to the flow of our people to a foreign land, as well as providing steady employment for our citizenship in a country where there are so many wealthy and undeveloped resources. Canada should be a land where unemployment never constitutes a problem and from which our people never have to emigrate by hundreds of thousands in search of work. Mr. Mackenzie King has failed to visualize the inherent greatness of the Dominion. The fiscal record of his Government is one of dismal failure, as the plain evidence of fact shows conclusively.

SPACE AS ONLY REALITY

Professor Einstein's latest public pronouncement, in an address before the World Power Conference at Berlin, is said to make an advance in theory even greater than Relativity. In a summing up of a highly technical discourse the professor said that the general theory of Relativity, while absorbing gravitation, does not account for electro-magnetic fields. The latter he includes in a "Unitary Field Theory" on the basis of a spatial structure which can be characterized mathematically. His own description follows:

"The field laws should be the simplest mathematical conditions to which such a space manifold can be subjected. These laws seem to have been found and have proved to be in agreement with the empirical laws of gravitation and electricity up to the first order of approximation. Further mathematical investigation will reveal whether or not they also provide a useful theory of material particles and their movements. Metaphorically speaking, space which has been abstracted from material objects and made a scientific reality by Newton, has, during the past century, swallowed up both ether and light and is about to swallow up both the gravitational and electro-magnetic fields and corpuscles as well, so that it will be left the sole theoretical representative of reality."

In effect what Professor Einstein claims is that by his new Unitary Field Theory he is able to include, in a four dimensional continuum, a blend of space and time, ether, light, electro-magnetism and corpuscles, so that space is now the sole representative of reality.

Mr. J. Truslow Adams, writing in Harper's Monthly, says that any astronomer can predict with absolute accuracy just where every star in the heavens will be at 11:30 o'clock tonight. He goes on to say that he can make no such prediction about his young daughter. Thus the accumulation of knowledge does not necessarily bring happiness in its train. The passions still rise higher over domestic than over astrophysical happenings.

Mr. Hoover, the President of the United States, has become unpopular because he did not make prosperity permanent during his term of office. The test, says The New York Times, "is a pretty low one to apply to the political success of a President." It is the criterion, however, of political success in a materialistic age and country.

SPIRIT OF GRACE AND BEAUTY

Spirit of Grace and Beauty,
  Whom men so much miscall:
Maidenly, modest duty,
  I cry thee fair befall!

Pity for them that shun thee,
  Sorrow for them that hate,
Glory, hath any won thee
  To dwell in high estate!

But rather thou delightest
  To walk in humble ways,
Keeping thy favor highest
  Uncrowned by foolish praise;

In such retirement dwelling,
  Where, hath the worldling been,
He straight returneth, telling
  Of sights that he hath seen,

Of simple men and truest
  Faces of girl and boy;
The souls whom thou enduest
  With gentle peace and joy.
—Robert Bridges.

That is indeed a twofold knowledge which profits alike by the folly of the foolish and the wisdom of the wise. It is both a shield and a sword; it borrows its security from the darkness, and its confidence from the light.—C. C. Colton.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

"What's in a name?" Million of dollars—sometimes.

Calvin Coolidge also is among the columnists. Admitting that we may be prejudiced and that our judgment therefore may be worth as little as the fabled tinker's expletive, still our humble opinion is that Coolidge as a columnist does not tower as high among his contemporary columnists as Saul did among the prophets. We have just finished reading one of the Coolidge contributions to one of the many newspapers in which it will be printed, and venture to say that if it were signed by the name of an unknown writer that instead of being printed in a syndicate of important newspapers it would be reposing in the depths of a number of editorial waste paper baskets.

* * *

Thus, after all, there is something in a name; and there is more in having been president of the United States, however mute the tongue and inglorious the public career of the bearer of the name. This is an age of stunts and ballyhoo. Anyone who aspires to gain fame and fortune quickly must do something sensational. If physically incapable of "knocking somebody out" in the ring for a prize of a million dollars or so, there is a chance of beginning at the bottom and working up to a grand climax by going up in a flying machine and turning around in the air in circles for a greater number of hours than anybody ever did before; or you may go over Niagara Falls in a barrel and exhit yourself in the movies, if peradventure you survive the stunt and are taken out of the barrel alive; or you may try something simpler and less perilous; you may climb to the apex of a pole and sit there like a monkey for a longer time than anybody ever did before.

* * *

But the safest and the most lucrative stunt of all is to get in touch with the political bosses and become president of the United States. There was a time when the people of the United States asked themselves a very perplexing question. That puzzling question was: "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" To the credit of the ex-presidents, be it said, most of them retired from office comparatively poor men, of course, in the common and worldly sense of the term. That question need not have been asked about the only living ex-president, for Mr. Coolidge is not a poor man and in the conventional sense of the term is a very good man. So the newspapers have "signed him up" and are going to exploit his fame and his good name. He is writing a series of articles for a syndicate, with the assistance of an experienced newspaper writer and competent journalist and politician. He will be better paid for his work, whatever it may prove to be in the matter of wise sayings and modern instances, than he was paid for the job of directing the destinies of the United States or than any other columnist (not even with the exception of one) is paid for his contributions.

* * *

Thus is the profession of the lowly columnist being exalted in the United States. First there was Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, who crossed the water and wrote a series of articles for the Hearst Press when he was temporarily out of a lucrative political job. Next there may be Rt. Hon. William Mackenzie King, whose lucrative political job seems to be menaced by a rising and swelling tide of Canadian public opinion. Stranger things than that have happened in this world of change and decay in reputations. The profession of the columnists of Canada may be exalted by the accession to its already distinguished ranks of an ex-Premier of Canada. But writing articles for the purpose of entertaining and enlightening readers of the newspapers is quite a different art from making speeches for the purpose of confusing and deluding the people who listen to speeches.

* * *

Mr. Coolidge's written articles are quite different from his speeches except in one particular. The Coolidge written articles are short, in that respect betraying the hand of the skilled and experienced newspaper man sitting beside the writer; and they are dull and platitudinous, proving that the thoughts are the thoughts of Coolidge. We would not go as far as to repeat the statement of a critic of Mr. King that his speeches are like a straight line: Length without breadth or depth. So we warn the Premier that if the expected happens and he should be tempted to exploit his fame and augment his fortune by writing for the newspapers that his writings, as he hopes to have them read, will have to be much shorter, far less prosy, and much more sprightly, than his speeches. And while there is an old saying that brevity is the soul of wit, we are not so sanguine as to believe that the very extremity of brevity would breed wit in either the current speeches or the future writings of Mr. King.

WILLIAM DUNBAR

By S. E. L.

A short, rather rotund figure, a face ruddy and stamped with evidences of the love of good cheer, eyes small, beady and dark, now twinkling with humor, now blazing with scorn, a golden tongue mellifluous in speech. Such is the portrait of William Dunbar drawn by his biographer in the Famous Scots Series, who characterizes the poet as "a mighty genius," adjudged by many competent critics to be "the peer, if not in a few of his qualities the superior of Chaucer and Spenser."

Dunbar lived during the golden age of Scottish history at the court of the ablest prince of his line, James IV, a stout soldier, a capable administrator of his prosperous realm, and a generous patron of learning and literature. The approximate date of Dunbar's birth is 1460. He was educated at St. Andrew's, obtaining the degree of Master of Arts, and later visited the universities of Oxford and Paris. At twenty-three he entered the church and donned the habit of a preaching friar of the Franciscan Order, but five years later retired from the order and assumed the dress of the secular clergy. About 1490 he entered the personal and confidential service of his sovereign and was employed in embassies to foreign courts.

He accompanied the mission to England which arranged the terms of the alliance between the two royal houses, the marriage which resulted in the union of the two kingdoms under one crown a century later. While in England Dunbar distinguished himself by composing several brilliant poems which won great praise in the English capital, and on the arrival in Edinburgh of the Tudor Princess Margaret he wrote the magnificent epithalamium, "The Thistle and the Rose."

Dunbar was greatly esteemed by the royal pair and occupied an honorable and influential position at court. He was an ardent defender of the policy of cultivating good relations with England. James, however, in an evil moment resolved to intervene in a quarrel between England and France. He marched into England at the head of an army of Lowlanders, Highlanders and Islesmen and encountered the Earl of Surrey, who outmanoeuvred him and destroyed his army at Flodden Field.

Shortly after this disaster Dunbar seems to have retired to a quiet benefice having re-entered his order. His closing years are wrapped in obscurity and he died about 1520.

A DIVERSIFIED GENIUS

Smeaton, his biographer, says of Dunbar that his genius was of a stronger, bolder cast than that of the author of the "Faerie Queen," and that he "soared into realms of pure imagination quite as high as Spenser ever attempted." Moreover, he adds that "to no other poet has the faculty been given of attaining excellence so supreme in so many diverse kinds of metrical composition." He was a love poet, an elegist, a satirist, an allegorist. He was "greater in pure description than any other poet in our language save only Thomson."

There is, of course, no space here to quote from Dunbar at length, but a simple example will serve to give a taste of his quality:

The purple sun with tender beamis red,
In orient bright as angel did appear,
Through golden skyis putting up his head,
Whose glorious tresses shone so wondrous clear,
That all the world took comfort far and near.

If his biographer's judgment is sound, Dunbar was Scotland's earliest poet, national in the true sense of the word, and "by the indefeasible passport of his supreme genius has an indisputable title, in the apostolic succession of British poetry, to that place between Chaucer and Spenser—the place which can only be claimed by one whose genius was co-ordinate with theirs."

POOR ECONOMICS

Sir,—I have been reading your leading article in Saturday's issue—"Liberals and Dairying Industry"—and though I never dabble in party politics out here, am very much interested in studying the economic position as it affects your province; in my opinion the most highly-favored province in the Dominion. I am "sold" on it and have no hesitation in saying so, here and now.

The handicaps under which you have been suffering for some years past, as regards above industry, whereby you have ceased to be exporters of butter and are now large importers, tells against your province in this way. British capitalists are apt to conclude there is something wanting in your grazing land: it has not the requisite properties.

Another notorious instance is the fact of your P.G.E. line being allowed to remain incompleted all these years.

As one of your big men in Canada remarked to the writer, in an interview, "But, Mr. Todd, you don't mean to tell me that a line which has been without head or tail for ten years, has any land adjacent of any value?" (This was two years ago.) The same party, before I was done with him, admitted he had learned a good deal and would not forget it. Again, your land was the victim.

Mr. Mackenzie King is trying hard, by a reversal of policy, to save his face. From an economic standpoint I contend he has proved more a hindrance than a help and I wait to see the result of the coming general election.

British capital, so far as your province is concerned, is also waiting.

ROBERT TODD,
4626 Selkirk Avenue, Vancouver, B.C., July 7, 1930.

THE AGE LIMIT

Sir,—I take the privilege of placing before your readers an injustice and hardship working against thousands of citizens throughout the Dominion of Canada. They are precluded from getting employment with the Federal, provincial and municipal governments. The injustice is that no citizen of either sex can get employment on the permanent staff of the above mentioned governments, whether it be clerical or manual labor, who has reached the allotted span of thirty-five years of age. A few weeks ago I was informed by a citizen that he had applied for a government position that was duly advertised under the law, and that he fulfilled every requirement for the same. He failed to get the position because he was over thirty-five years of age.

It is obvious at a glance that it is a hardship on that citizen because he happened to live beyond the said allotted span of years. According to history, some of the greatest minds the world has produced did not come into their own till they reached the age of fifty years, also persons of authority claim that a normal person of forty years of age is in the prime of life. This system pertaining to age came into being because of the superannuation fund. It is apparent the younger the persons given employment the more moneys they pay into said fund before being superannuated.

There is not the least doubt in the world there are lessons we could adapt to our advantage as a nation from our neighbors to the south in our national life. I, for one, fail to see why we should "ape" them in our administrative affairs to the disadvantage of thousands of our own citizens. Some large corporation in the United States claims a person is useless past the thirty-five-year mark.

There is another aspect to this subject. A private employer can justify his position by not employing a person over thirty-five years of age. When the state takes that attitude it is different. For instance, when a contractor is let a contract from the Government, if he posted up on a board a notice stating, "No persons will be employed on this building over thirty-five years of age," what a howl would go up from the indignant citizens, because it was the people's money being spent to build the project.

I fail to see what is the difference between the citizens' moneys being spent by their Government, direct or indirect, to be logical and consistent from a business point of view. If a citizen of Canada over thirty-five years of age is classified by the Government as servile and useless, then it most assuredly follows that no citizen of Canada should be eligible to a seat in Parliament over thirty-five years of age to make the laws and administrate the affairs of his fellow citizens.

WALTER INWARD,
1446 Lang Street, Victoria, B.C., July 4, 1930.

MR. F. LANDSBERG

Sir,—In my far away New York home I find myself reading with keenest interest the illustrated story of Fred Landsberg and his election as "the most useful citizen of Victoria."

Congratulations both to Mr. Landsberg and to Victoria! It would require more space than The Colonist has to give to record all of the good things that Mr. Landsberg has done. For instance, some of his achievements that bulk large in my knowledge are not even mentioned in The Colonist, notably his important share in saving a million lives in Armenia, including 150,000 orphaned children, and, later, in securing an expression of Golden Rule ideas in child-welfare work throughout the world.

CHARLES V. VICKREY,
Executive Vice-President,
The Golden Rule Foundation, 1 Madison Ave., New York, U.S.A., July 2, 1930.

SAANICH TAXES AND GARBAGE COLLECTION

Sir,—I hope the ratepayers will turn out on Saturday and vote for the passing of the Garbage By-Law, for it not only means improved sanitary conditions, but will prevent the dumping of unsightly rubbish along the roads and on vacant lots.

I understand the opposition principally comes from a few disgruntled owners of vacant lots who think they are going to be ruined if their taxes are even increased the price of a packet of cigarettes, as Councillor Crowhurst points out. As for the price of the garbage can, the municipality is charging no more for it than the city does.

I came to reside in Saanich, principally from a health standpoint, about three years ago, and have never regretted it. I have daily mail and newspaper delivery, same as in the city; phone and electric light, besides a plentiful supply of water. The only thing wanting is sewage disposal, and I think that will come eventually. When it does, and we have better roads and sidewalks, especially the latter, I think few ratepayers would complain even if their taxes were doubled.

Victoria citizens are amazed when I tell them the low rate of taxation in Saanich. No, Sir, the slight increase in taxes for garbage collection is well worth it, and few sensible ratepayers will refuse to vote for the passing of the by-law.

GEORGE M. WATT.
874 Irwin Drive, Saanich, B.C., July 7, 1930.

ON TAG DAYS

Sir,—For three successive tag days I have successfully resisted the importunities of the very charming collectors and, for the benefit of others, I think that my method should be more widely known.

I may say that I like to give what I can afford to the social services of my home town, but I greatly object to contribute to objects of which I know nothing.

The following is a typical description of what happens when I meet a collector on a tag day. "Good morning, madam, what is the good work today?" The reply, when my luck is good, "Well, I don't quite know," or "Oh, it is a tag day."

Will the organizers of these ventures, which brighten our streets, kindly take notice?

A. R. BARROW.

CONTEST IN NANAIMO

Sir,—While looking through The Spokesman of July 5, 1930, I notice C. H. O'Halloran tells his audience that Colonel Cy. Peck referred to certain discharged road employees as "damned rogues." I don't think that the colonel is capable of using such words about any workingman.

Speaking as one who served under him with hundreds of others, there was not an officer in the whole corps who was any more considerate for his men than Col. Cy. Peck, and what is more, I have yet to hear the first person who can honestly say anything but that the colonel does what he thinks is right. I also know that the colonel has not got a five-cent mind. If Mr. C. H. O'Halloran thinks he will get any votes with the methods he is using, he is sure on the wrong track.

PHILOSOPHY

Philosophy is sober stuff,
And life is never long enough
  To learn what it would teach,
So hidden are its subtle ways,
So secret is its devious maze,
  So far its windings reach.

But when through forests deep I tread,
With tall pines swinging overhead,
  And dogwood boughs all white,
Or when I walk beside the sea,
I hear strange voices speak to me
  Across the star-strewn night.

Philosophy seems cold, remote,
And lessons from a linnet's throat
  Bring more of good to me;
I hold that April some way knows
More surely how to cure man's woes
  Than all philosophy.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of July 9, 1880)

A coroner's jury at Nanaimo decided that Thomas Felden, a sailor, caused the fire in which he perished when an old stable, in which he was held pending bail or a magistrate's release order, was burned.

Companies Nos. 1 and 2 of the Rifles have decided to go into camp at Beacon Hill.

The projected alterations to the postoffice will considerably improve its appearance.

THOMAS J. MOONEY IS DENIED PARDON

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Governor C. C. Young today denied a pardon to Thomas J. Mooney, San Francisco dynamiter, serving life imprisonment for murder of ten persons and injury to forty by an infernal machine in the northern city fourteen years ago.

Hurried "George" To His Breakfast

CHATSWORTH, England, July 8.—The Duke of Devonshire, who has just celebrated his sixty-second birthday, is one of the greatest landowners in England. He owns 186,000 acres of land.

His home contains priceless art treasures, including the coronation chairs of a number of kings.

The Duke of Devonshire is a close friend of the King, who visits him at Chatsworth. The King met the Duke's little granddaughter, Arabella Mackintosh, on his way down to breakfast one morning. He stopped to speak to her and asked her what her name was.

"Arabella," she said simply, "what is yours?"

"George," replied the King.

"Well, George, you had better hurry down to breakfast," said little Arabella, "'cos granny will give you no end of a scolding if you're late."

Lord Charles Cavendish, son of the Duke of Devonshire, is now working in a bank in Wall Street, where he has temporarily dropped his courtesy title.

EASTERNERS CHARMED BY PROVINCE

Prominent Party of United Church of Canada Are Entertained at Empress Hotel Banquet

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR EXTENDS WELCOME

Premier Tolmie, Mayor Anscomb and Notable Guests Join in Welcome to Visitors

Stopping in Victoria yesterday and today in the course of a trans-Canada tour, which will end at the Peace River block, 197 members of The New Outlook party of the United Church of Canada were given a hearty welcome at an official banquet held at the Empress Hotel last evening. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Mayor Anscomb and other prominent speakers extended a sincere welcome to the visitors in the name of the province and of the Capital City.

Members of the party, which has half completed a transcanada tour, and will leave today for the Peace River via Prince Rupert and Jasper Park, referred repeatedly to the scenic grandeur of the West, declaring themselves not only impressed with the tremendous development taking place in the three Western provinces, but charmed with the warmth of their hospitable reception at every point.

British Columbia, with its physical features turned in a mammoth mold, and the diversity and richness of its natural heritage, came in for glowing tributes. Tributes fell likewise to the Capital City for its beauty, and the cordiality of the entertainment with which it greeted visitors.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR SPEAKS

In extending a hearty welcome on behalf of the province and the capital, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor commended the educational benefits to be derived from an interchange through such visits of the peoples of the East and West of the great Dominion.

"We are beginning to realize how interdependent are the provinces of Canada," said His Honor. "The success of one province inures to the benefit of all. The Dominion in this respect is like a young and virile man, whose life blood flowing through his vein, taps every portion of the country, and responds to the strength and invigoration of each part.

"Visits of this nature are of great value to the country, and do much to bring about a better understanding of the magnificent opportunities of the Dominion as a whole," continued His Honor, who complimented the party on its numbers, and also on the eagerness with which its members held open mind to receive each new impression of what was to them the undiscovered wonders of the West. Visitors to the West today, concluded Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, saw not the "sea of mountains," but rolling lands productive with the wealth of the soil, and rich in a multitude of valuable natural resources.

Premier Tolmie paid a warm tribute to the initiative of the United Church in Canada, evidenced by the highly organized tour of close on 200 members which set out to see Canada from East to West. Nothing was more necessary in the country today, he said, than a better knowledge of what the Dominion had to offer as a whole.

A GREAT FUTURE

The Premier assured the delegates that pleased as they had been with the view of British Columbia, they had obtained up to that evening, they would be charmed with what was yet to be viewed. Their trip, he said, through the northern section of the province to the Peace River block would be a new delight, and open up further doors to their imagination of the great future such a country had to offer to the Empire and the world.

"On behalf of the Government of British Columbia I wish to express the heartiest good wishes for you all, our hope is that your visit will be the most instructive experience of your life, and that some day we may see you again," concluded the Premier.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR

Mayor Anscomb said the capital city was accustomed to conventions and visits from delegations from all parts of the Coast, and frequently from across the border, but seldom did the opportunity come to welcome so large and influential a body from Eastern Canada. Victoria, he said, was happy to extend its welcome to The New Outlook party.

There was a great field for the church in Canada, continued His Worship. As a molder of character it could play a dominant part in the upbuilding of a nation of individuals fitted to develop a country whose heritage was unrivaled in the present memory of man. It was his hope, concluded Mayor Anscomb, that the lights taken from the altar of friendship at this time would burn for a long time, and that the visitors would return again, perhaps to stay.

Dr. W. J. Sipprell, chairman of the Victoria committee which arranged plans for the party's reception, spoke briefly, telling of the readiness shown on every hand to make the stay of the visitors a memorable one. Dr. Sipprell announced plans for today, in which the party will be taken to Butchart's Gardens this morning and returned at noon, in time for their departure for Vancouver, en route to Prince Rupert, this afternoon.

Lord Stair, attending the banquet as a guest of the Lieutenant-Governor at Government House, spoke briefly. He had come to Canada on behalf of a Scottish Grand Lodge to take part in a Masonic ceremony in the East. He had remained long beyond his intended stay, and had crossed Canada to see more of the country whose place in the Empire was already a much valued one, and destined to become even more so. He would like to have seen the Peace River, but time did not permit, concluded His Lordship.

ON FIRST TRIP

G. W. Mason, K.C., legal counsel for The New Outlook and the United Church, told the hosts that 90 per cent of the members of the party were enjoying to the full their first trip west of the Great Lakes. Mr. Mason paid a tribute to Dr. S. W. Fallis, chairman and leader of the party, for the admirable arrangements made for the comfort of the party on the trip.

Dr. Fallis acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the speakers of the evening.

Guests invited to the banquet to meet The New Outlook party included His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Miss Margaret Mackenzie, Countess and Lord Stair, from Government House; Premier the Hon. S. F. Tolmie and Mrs. Tolmie; Mayor and Mrs. Anscomb; members of the ministry, and others representative of the business and professional life of the city.

Need for Development Of Markets for B.C. Lumber Is Stressed

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 8.—The need for development of markets for British Columbia lumber was drawn to the attention of Prime Minister Mackenzie King here today. He was interviewed by J. H. McDonald, chairman of the British Columbia lumber delegation to Australia, and J. G. Robson, a member of the party. They asked that the lumber industry be considered in the negotiation of trade treaties, and suggested new markets, which might be developed.

Premier King agreed with their plea for the lumber industry, and promised that his Government was now, and would in future, keep this important trade in mind.

SNUB TO AMY JOHNSON PROBE

Members of the Airways Club in London are investigating the snub given to Amy Johnson, just before her flight to Australia. Lectures are delivered before the club regularly on aviation matters. Some weeks ago it had difficulty in securing a lecturer, and Miss Johnson offered her services, but was politely turned down. As she has become as great an idol in England as Lindbergh in America, the club members are chagrined.

C. H. DICKIE HAS FINE MEETING

Nanaimo Candidate Given Splendid Reception by Mayne Island Audience

LIBERAL POLICY IS ONLY FOR ELECTION

MAYNE ISLAND, July 8.—Another large and enthusiastic audience heard C. H. Dickie, Conservative candidate for Nanaimo, discuss campaign topics, when he spoke here tonight. He was vigorously applauded when he made reference to the manner in which Premier Mackenzie King had abandoned his former stand and had endeavored to seek re-election by adopting a portion of the platform of the Conservative party.

Mr. King has appealed to the people of Canada on British preference, said Mr. Dickie, and would seek to lead them to believe that it was something that he had long cherished, but it was not difficult to recall his former attitude. When Mr. King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe had returned from the Imperial Conference two years ago they had boasted that Canada was now a separate nation. They hoped to gain popularity by that means, but when they found that the French-Canadian population of Quebec saw in the suggestion the possibility of losing the privileges granted to them at the time of the conquest, the Liberal leaders changed their cry.

Conservatives had long been urging British preference, but it was only when they wished for something for the purposes of an election that the Liberals had seized upon that portion of Hon. R. B. Bennett's policies.

In stressing the importance of building up the industries of the British Empire Mr. Dickie, amid applause, declared that a great manufacturing plant, employing hundreds of workers, was just as important to the development of the Empire when located in Canada as if it was operating in Manchester. It was, at the same time, more important to the people of Canada to have it situated in the Dominion.

If, asked the speaker, the Dunning budget was the proper thing for the Government to produce at this time, why was it not equally important to have done so seven or eight years ago? The answer was that the Dunning budget was advanced only as a political expedient. Premier King, who had long been known as an ardent friend of the United States, and had allowed the young people of Canada to drift across the border by the thousands and tens of thousands, now brought forward a budget which simulated a part of the Conservative policies in the hope of bribing the electors to return him to power.

A very delightful feature of the splendid meeting was a solo rendered by Mrs. Dickie, which was repeatedly encored.

Contractors Deny Charges Of Ald. Loat

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Charges that taxpayers here were "paying through the nose" for paving in Vancouver, made by Ald. Warner Loat before the board of works today, were denied by city contractors.

"These statements, besides being misleading are grossly unfair to the city engineering department," Will Ellis, former head of the firm of Carter-Ellis, contractors, and pioneer paving contractor on the Pacific Coast, declared. Ellis is also a member of the executive of the Genearl Contractors' Association.

Replying to Alderman Loat's charges at the meeting of the board of works, Charles Brakenridge said it was difficult to make comparisons without full data, but he suggested conditions and contract trems in Vancouver were more rigid than in cities south of the border.

"We demand a five-year guarantee of maintenance on all paving work done here, and that alone entails a heavy bond," the engineer declared. "Added to that the contractor here is levied about $12 each day for inspection cost."

Alderman Loat charged that paving costs in Vancouver were practically double those in Los Angeles for similar work and in all cases much higher than in other Pacific Coast cities.

On motion of Alderman W. H. Lembke the matter was referred to the city engineer for report to the city council.

PREMIER KING IN VANCOUVER

Says Building Railway Outlet From Peace River District Would Furnish Work for Many

SOCKEYE SALMON PACT DISCUSSED

By RAY BROWN
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

VANCOUVER, July 8.—In Canada's great Western seaport Premier Mackenzie King tonight discussed unemployment. His Vancouver audience was the greatest indoor gathering which he has addressed thus far.

Of particular interest to a Western audience was the Prime Minister's statement that the construction of a railway outlet from the Peace River district might furnish employment for many now out of work. He had personally seen the presidents of both great Canadian railway systems in an effort to ascertain the reasons for delay in going on with this project, he said.

"What we have said to each of them is that the people of Western Canada are interested in the construction of this road," asserted Mr. King with emphasis. "We have told them—and this was sometime ago—that we think six months is long enough to decide on the route, and we have told them that if they have not discovered a route in six months, then the Government will find a way, or make it, to construct a road."

The Prime Minister demanded to know the policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett with respect to unemployment. The Conservative leader was proposing to call another session of Parliament. "But," said Mr. King, "he gives no indication of what his policy is to be when Parliament meets. What is it that he is proposing? He says he is going to raise the tariff. If raising the tariff is a remedy, why is it that in the United States, where they have a high tariff, there are from three to four million people out of work."

The sockeye salmon treaty was mentioned by Mr. King and he blamed Conservatives for delaying the passing of this treaty. Millions of dollars had been lost, he asserted, through the delay and the Conservatives must account to the people of British Columbia.

A new feature of the Prime Minister's speech this evening was a reference to the need for better and cheaper means of communication between Canada and the Orient.

To increase its capacity, an oil tanker was recently cut in three and a new midship section floated in and joined up at Heburn-on-Tyne, England.

Plans are being made for converting the famous Maisons Laffitte race track, in France, into an international passenger aviation field.

NEW SYSTEM IS ADVANTAGEOUS

PLATOON SYSTEM MAKES BEST OF EACH TEACHER'S EQUIPMENT

Mr. Robert Straight, of Vancouver Explains Principle to Summer School Students

The effect of the platoon school system in utilizing, to the child's advantage, the most expert part of each teacher's equipment; its advantage in localizing classroom equipment for the teaching of such subjects as drawing, nature study, geography, etc., and therefore making possible more and better equipment; its place as a time-saver in the school curriculum; and its possibilities for assisting the pupil, without incommoding the whole class, to forge ahead of his classmates in any given subject for which he shows a special aptitude, were pointed out by Mr. Robert Straight, B.A., of the Bureau of Measurements Department, Vancouver, in the address which he gave yesterday afternoon at the Summer School for Teachers. The numerous questions asked after the lecture showed a lively interest in the platoon school, daily demonstrations in which are given in connection with the demonstration school, of which Mr. Straight is principal.

Mr. Straight reminded his audience that the introduction of manual training and home economics had first suggested the advantages of some such system as the platoon school, for, when the pupils had these subjects, they had three teachers and three rooms were required for one class. This condition, at a time when the schools were crowded for room, had stressed the necessity of some altered system. Specialization came to be required in other subjects, and when a teacher decided that he was not competent to teach music or nature study, or some other topic, he "traded" rooms during these periods with another teacher more competent in this particular subject. The platoon system offered a solution for this difficulty by providing special teachers for special subjects.

THE IDEAL SCHOOL

With the assistance of a sample time-table, Mr. Straight explained the method by which the platoon school operates, the ideal school for the experiment being a sixteen or eight-platoon school. The chart dissipated the idea held by many that at the end of each period there was a grand shuffle of classes from one room to another. On the contrary, classes all had their assigned "home" rooms, and spent four periods of the day there, with their own teacher. Consequently, they were not, as some people thought, children without any particular teacher. The teacher in charge of the home-room had his own special pupils for half the school day, and had ample opportunity to get to know them better than any other teacher. He could win their confidence, study their temperament and abilities, and give them advice just as the teacher under the old-fashioned system had been accustomed to do.

Arithmetic, spelling and writing were always taught in the home-room, because the desks in that room were suited to the pupils' size.

Critics had also argued that the pupil under the platoon system had too many teachers in the course of his school life. As a matter of fact, this was not true, as the drawing teacher who instructed a child in his Grade III work, for example, would also teach him in his Grade IV year.

Mr. Straight favored a modified platoon system school to the junior high school system. In Vancouver the platoon school idea was becoming more popular, and the Parent-Teachers' Association last year had called on the school board and requested that more of the elementary schools be organised on this plan.

GAMES BENEFIT

Games benefited particularly from the platoon system, as all teachers were not competent to teach children baseball, football, and basketball. These required a specialist, a teacher who not only knew his subject, but enjoyed teaching it.

End Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery (Advt.)

EGG SHIPMENTS SHOW BIG GAIN

EXPORTS FROM B.C. INCREASED BY 800 PER CENT IN PAST THREE YEARS

Better Husbandry, Organization and Co-operation Given as Cause of Extraordinary Development

Export of eggs from British Columbia has increased by almost 800 per cent in the past three years, according to statistics compiled recently by the College of Agriculture of the University of British Columbia, and released on Tuesday.

Five years ago poultrymen of British Columbia marketed the bulk of their eggs within the province. In 1926, they shipped 57 cars to outside points. In the following year the figure jumped to 156 cars, and in 1928 the export of eggs amounted to 387 cars. In 1929, still another record was established, when 422 cars were shipped to points outside the province.

Commenting on the remarkable export of 76,000,000 eggs in the past year, the University states:

"This extraordinary development is due to better husbandry, better organization, and better co-operation. R.O.P. breeding, in which the college has played an important part; the formation of a British Columbia egg pool, and improvement of existing practices as a result of a ten-year survey conducted by the College of Agriculture, have all contributed toward placing British Columbia in a position where she could ship this huge number of eggs."

THE SECRET GARDEN

High were the walls of the garden
I made for my own delight,
Where only the sun and the winds could see,
And the stars peered down by night.
Violets white and lilies
Bordered its pathways cool,
And the lovely lotus dreamed of the Nile
There in a placid pool.
Passers along the highway,
Out in the dust and the heat,
Saw only a blank wall standing,
Nor guessed at my fair retreat.
Wanderers lone and longing
For beauty and peace, maybe;
So I took the garden wall away
That all the world might see.
Now I hear gay children's laughter,
As they watch the butterflies,
And I see the joy that gleams again
In old remembering eyes.
Sweet was my hidden garden,
With its jasmine and roses fair;
But brighter than any secret place
Glows the loveliness all may share!

Operations Resumed At Flint Factory Following Strike

FLINT, Mich., July 8.—Operations were resumed in the No. 1 plant of the Fisher Body Corporation here today as state and local police patrolled the streets adjoining the factory and dispersed groups of striking workers.

Although leaders of the striking workmen had announced plans to prevent the resumption of operations in the factory, police experienced no difficulty in breaking up the gatherings.

Officials of the factory declined to reveal the number of men at work, but the police estimated that between 50 and 60 per cent of the normal force of 5,000 men passed through the gates this morning.

FRIENDLY HELP IS GRATEFUL FOR GIFTS

Unemployment Problem Faces Workers—Friends Contribute Generously

The president, Mrs. Cullum, was in the chair at the meeting of the Friendly Help Association held in its rooms, Market Building, yesterday. There were fifteen members present, including Alderman Woodward and Alderman Adam, representing the city. Mrs. Field, Anglican Chinese missionary, was a visitor at the meeting.

It was reported that the unemployment situation still is serious, and many new cases have to be dealt with, the number being quite unusual at this time of year.

Reports showed that 114 cases, representing 423 persons, were assisted in June; seventy-five had groceries, nineteen had fuel (four, coal, and fifteen, wood), thirty-nine had milk daily and forty-five had meat more than once. From the rooms thirty-eight obtained clothing, nineteen had provisions, such as eggs, vegetables, salmon, lettuce, etc.; four were given sundries, such as a go-cart, rags, blankets, bedding, baby's cot, etc.

There had been many pleasant surprises and anonymous gifts. A young lad came into the rooms and gave a small sum of money he had found, but would give no name. These are the incidents that cheer the workers, it was stated.

The association will assist the S.P.C.A. on its tag day on July 19.

Thanks are expressed to the kind friends who sent in clothing for the family which has gone to England, as many parcels were sent in without names.

The association acknowledges with grateful thanks the following donations received during June: Cash—The City, A Sincere Friend, Mrs. Pilgrim, Friend K., J. A. Sayward, G. H. Dawson, W. D. Todd, Gospel Friend, Mrs. Wilkinson, A Friend, the Lieutenant-Governor, A Friend by Post, James Forman, new clothing, Vimpa Jersey Milk Ltd., Oakland Dairy, Mrs. E. H. Mayor of Leechtown Celebrates Birthday

Mr. John Cragg, the picturesque "Mayor o' Leechtown," was the honored guest of the Vancouver Island branch of the Alpine Club of Canada at their annual camp at the Lake of the Seven Hills yesterday, the occasion being his seventy-fifth birthday.

Mr. Cragg, who considers the Lake of the Seven Hills as part of his municipality of Greater Leechtown, and who has, therefore, visited the camp on one or two previous occasions, had to walk fifteen or sixteen miles to attend the birthday tea arranged in his honor, but arrived in high spirits and with a poem of his own composition under his arm to reply to the addresses of welcome made by Mr. Claude Harrison, Mr. W. H. Dougan, and others. A handsome birthday cake, presented by Mrs. Harrison, occupied the centre of the table, round which about twenty members were gathered. After the congratulatory speeches the entire gathering rose and lustily cheered the guest of honor, who shortly afterwards started down the trail on his long return journey to Leechtown.

GIRLS' BAND WINS GOVERNOR'S PRAISE

Performance at Garden Party Much Appreciated by Visiting Guests

The Victoria Girls' Band, which played at Government House yesterday during the garden party held by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie in connection with the visit here of the "Peace River Special" tourists, received many complimentary remarks from the visitors. His Honor expressed a desire to meet each member individually, and complimented the whole organization on its fine musicianship and smart appearance. Such a band was a distinct asset to the capital city of British Columbia, and must be of great value to the community. Miss Mackenzie also complimented the musicians and their leader, Mr. Arthur Hodgkins, and expressed the hope that they would be heard at Government House in the near future.

The organization numbers thirty-five instrumentalists, and in the flower-framed lawn at Government House they made a very effective appearance in their smart uniforms of cream and scarlet. Their programme yesterday included the overture "Magnetta," the march "Success," "Blaze Away," "Stein Song," "Indian Boy" (fox trot), and "Great Divide" (march).

Fashionable Wedding Is Celebrated in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Victoria guests were very proud when, at the wedding this afternoon, it was announced that one of the loveliest brides of the season in Vancouver was Mildred Frances, daughter of Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C., B.D., and Mrs. Clark, formerly of Victoria and now of "Grey Gables," Shaughnessy Heights, who became the bride of Mr. Gerald Dunseith Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Wilson, of King Edward Avenue. The ceremony, which was attended by many guests, took place at St. Paul's Church which had been beautifully decorated with Summer flowers. Rev. Canon G. King was the officiating clergyman, and the wedding music was supplied by Mr. Robinson.

LOVELY BRIDE

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was truly beautiful in a gown of ivory satin, fashioned on long princess lines, with a flare skirt forming a train at the back. The gown, which was of great simplicity, had a deep Bertha collar, which fell to the waist at the back. Her veil was of parchment tulle and was caught to the head under a deep band of handmade lace, which also edged the veil, and was caught beneath the chin by a small pearl ornament. Over the veil she wore a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of Madonna lilies.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Enid Clark, as maid of honor, and Miss Hildred Wilson and Mrs. Alex Swanson as bridal attendants. Their gowns were very charming and were fashioned of organdie shading from palest pink to deep mauve, with full skirt and tiny ruffles. They carried Early Victorian bouquets of coral roses and mauve sweet peas framed by paper frills. The ushers were Mr. Robert and Mr. Reginald Clark, brothers of the bride, and Mr. William Bain and Mr. Edmund MacInnes. The groom was supported by Mr. John Hockin.

Following the wedding service a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the many guests were received by the young couple and by Brigadier-General and Mrs. Clark, the latter in a becoming gown of pale pink chiffon trimmed with parchment lace. She also wore a navy blue mohair hat with shaved ostrich feathers and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the groom, assisted in receiving and wore an ensemble of Chartreuse green georgette and a hat of green mohair, and she carried pink rosebuds.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left on their honeymoon, which will be spent in the South, and on their return will reside in their new residence on West Thirty-Third Street. The bride looked very handsome in an ensemble of periwinkle blue Lido cloth and hat of matched georgette.

CULTURE FORMS THEME OF TALK

That religious culture bears different aspects, with varying results, in nearly every country of the world was admitted by Rev. W. A. Guy, pastor of Oak Bay United Church, in the address on "Cultures," which he gave at the largely attended meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of First United Church held, through the hospitality of Mrs. James H. Fletcher, in the beautiful grounds of her residence, "Arran," York Place.

Mr. Guy defined the source of cultures as ideals or theories which, falling into congenial soil, spread and strengthened until they influenced the mental processes and actions of a community. They might be good, they might have an evil tendency. Religious culture bore different aspects in the different countries. In China it took the form of Confucianism and ancestor worship, in India Buddhism and Mahommedanism, in Africa idolatry and superstition, in Russia, at the present time, an effort to banish all record of the church. In each instance the religion exerted an influence on national life and character. In "alert and earnest" Japan the majority were eager to adopt, and adapt themselves to the requirements of Christianity, with a zeal and wholeheartedness that put many of the so-called Christians of the Occident to shame.

The speaker was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks, and also to Mrs. Fletcher the members expressed their appreciation for her delightful hospitality. Tea was served in the garden, the floral attractions of which provided diversion for the guests.

MORE WINE; LESS BEER

The Earl and Countess of Stair, who are guests at Government House, and the Premier and Mrs. Tolmie also stood in the receiving line.

The visitors were greatly impressed by the beauties of the gardens which are now a blaze of color, and looked their best in the clear Summer sunshine. The Victoria Girls' Band also enlivened the scene with a number of bright airs, and added to the attractions with their gay uniforms. Tea was served in the dining-room, where the tables had been charmingly arranged with silver vases of sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

TODAY'S RECIPE

TOMATO Jelly Salad—Stew one can of tomatoes for fifteen minutes and strain. Cover half a box of gelatine with half a cup of cold water and let it stand until it is thoroughly dissolved. Add the tomatoes and one teaspoon of white sugar, salt and Cayenne pepper. Mix well and turn into moulds. Serve with lettuce and mayonnaise. A little of the mixture poured into individual moulds, or even small cups, makes a more attractive salad.

Weddings

KEFFER-WEINBERG

The Grace English Lutheran Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday, when Annie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Weinberg, 632 Manchester Road, became the bride of Mr. Harold A. Keffer, youngest son of Mrs. A. Keffer, of Burton, B.C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Jansen. The church was a bower of Summer flowers. The bride entered the church on the arm of Mr. G. MacLaughlin, by whom she was given in mariage, to the strains of "Lohengrin Wedding March," played by Miss Albertine Miller. She was charming in a mocha georgette ensemble with hat en suite, and carried a sheaf of regal lilies and maidenhair fern. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Helen Weinberg, who wore a lilac georgette ensemble with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas and Ophelia roses. The groom was supported by Mr. James Stewart. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received the guests attractively gowned in navy blue crepe back satin, and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Westcott, Mrs. W. Fulton and Miss Albertine Miller. Miss Andrea Nielsen cut the ices. The young couple were the recipients of many useful and beautiful gifts. They left on the midnight boat for Vancouver en route to Rossland, where they will make their home. The bride traveled in a beige broadcloth coat with hat to match and carried a French beaded bag, the gift of the groom.

The Queen Alexandra Solarium, Malahat Beach, is badly in need of fresh vegetables. Friends have been very generous with their donations of clothing, fruit, jams, etc, and some have sent liberal supplies of vegetables also, but there are more than fifty children to be fed, and the stores are rapidly diminished, fruit and vegetables being more in demand with children than meat. Supplies may be sent either to the Solarium direct, or to the Solarium rooms, 918 Government Street.

SHE THOUGHT:

"It is hot . . . but even the heat doesn't excuse 'B.O.'"

Yet, to be polite,

SHE SAID:

"Isn't it terrible today, Uncle—90 in the shade!"

Poor Uncle Ed . . . a half-failure

—too bad he never suspected "B.O." (Body Odour)

PEOPLE had never liked him. Despite his geniality, even men had denied him friendship. For all his ability, real success had always evaded him.

Now he was past middle age — a lonely man — unpopular, just a half-way success —and all for the same unpardonable failing— "B.O." Body Odour.

Odourless perspiration— even in hot weather

Isn't it too bad that the offender is always last — when he should be first to suspect "B.O."?

We're fooled, doctors say, because we become insensitive to ever-present odours. But we perspire constantly — more than ever in hot weather. As much as a quart of odour-causing waste is given off by pores daily.

Why take chances when it's so pleasant, so easy to keep safe? Just use the favorite bath soap of millions — Lifebuoy. Its mild antiseptic lather deeply purifies. You'll notice the glorious new sense of cleanness it gives— the marvellous freshness that lasts for hours, with never a hint of "B.O."

Note, too, how fresh and clear Lifebuoy keeps complexions. Remember, it guards health — by removing germs. You'll love Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent that tells you it purifies, yet quickly vanishes as you rinse. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

SUMMER HOME BURNED DOWN

BEECHER BAY RESIDENCE OF DR. AND MRS. G. L. MILNE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Family Were Preparing to Open Premises for Season, When Roof Blaze Broke Out

The Summer home of Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Milne, of 618 Dallas Road, known as a landmark at Beecher Bay for the last eighteen years, was totally razed by fire recently, just as the household was preparing to occupy it for the Summer. The loss, in the neighborhood of $9,000, is partly covered by insurance.

Dr. Milne, for many years medical inspector for the Immigration Department here, and now retired, acquired 14½ acres on the east side of Beecher Bay about 1912, and put up a handsome Summer home of two stories and containing thirteen rooms. "Speyside," as the Summer residence was called, was known to a wide circle of friends of Dr. and Mrs. Milne, and was a landmark known by all pilots who passed in shipping up and down the Straits.

Members of the household were opening up the premises for the season when a roof blaze broke out, which spread rapidly and led to the gutting of the building and destruction of its contents.

Those at the scene made every effort to stop the spread of the flames, using water from a tank reservoir on the premises, but to no avail. The nearest neighbors live at a point over a mile distant, and fire-fighting service is not available in the unorganized territory.

In thirty minutes from the time the first crackle of flames was heard the entire building had been razed to the ground.

FOODS AND HOT DAY FATIGUE

Most persons are easily fatigued on hot days. So common is this experience that we think it natural. But it is not. A properly fed person will be just as alert mentally and physically on hot as on cool days. It is acid residues in the blood from eating acid-forming foods that cause hot weather tiredness. Foods that alkalinize and vitalize the blood and body cells keep one "in the pink" on the hottest days.

Roman Meal is the only alkaline cereal or grain food. It should be the grain food of choice for cereal, bread and cakes, especially during hot days. It can be eaten uncooked or icy-cold, recipes for both on package. Hot or cold, cooked or uncooked, it alkalinizes the blood and peps one up on hot days. Milk, vegetables and fruits also alkalinize and should be freely used with Roman Meal in Summer to build up resistance against Winter strains and diseases. Write for free sample and free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 315 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont. (Advt.)

To Broadcast Conservative Rally Tonight

The Conservative rally to be held in the Royal Victoria Theatre tonight will be broadcast over the local station CFCT at 8:15 o'clock when the full proceedings will be carried to the listening public.

The speakers scheduled to give addresses are: Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, former Conservative member, Fort William; Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of B.C.; Mrs. Reese Burns; Mr. D. B. Plunkett, Conservative candidate for Victoria, and Mr. Reginald Hayward, M.P.P.

Atlanta Alderman May Be Impeached

ATLANTA, Ga., July 8.—J. Allen Couch, Atlanta's big hearted alderman, who freed 268 prisoners in a gesture of independence while acting as mayor on the Fourth of July, now faces possible impeachment. The city attorney ruled Couch exceeded his authority. Meanwhile, police continued to rearrest as many of the prisoners as they could on old charges.

JOHNSON STREET BRIDGE TO CLOSE

Piling and Rail Repairs Will Stop Motor Traffic Tonight and Tomorrow

The Johnson Street bridge will be closed to motor traffic from 7 o'clock this evening until 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, and again at the same hours on Thursday night, it is stated by F. M. Preston, city engineer.

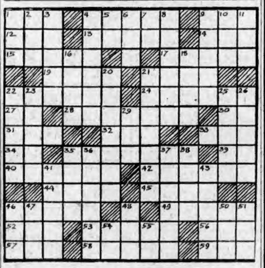

Repairs to the guard rails on the bridge, and piling work that will be carried out at the same time, will be effected while the bridge is closed to road traffic.

The Victoria Pile Driving Company is to carry out repairs to the piling, but this work will not interfere with vessel movements, which will proceed uninterrupted, it is stated.

Hundreds Will Take Part in Track and Field Events This Afternoon—Revolver Meet Draws Many Outside Entrants

Police from Seattle, Everett, Portland, Vancouver, Burnaby, New Westminster and North Vancouver, besides a large local contingent will be seen in action this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Royal Athletic Park in the annual Victoria police sports. Entrants from the above cities will also go after the many prizes for the revolver shoot to be held on the rifle range at the Royal Canadian Naval Dockyard.

With teams from the various cities throughout the Pacific Northwest and four naval squads, two each from H.M.C.S. Vancouver and the Naval Barracks, the shooting at the ranges is expected to be of the sharpest character. Seattle, Everett, North Vancouver, Vancouver, New Westminster, Vancouver C.P.R., Portland and the Victoria city police have teams entered in the various shoots and some past records are expected to be erased from the books.

Mrs. Christoffersen, world champion woman revolver shot, from Portland, arrived yesterday and will compete against the men as well as in a special shoot with Mrs. Hall and Miss Walker, star local shots. In previous years Mrs. Christoffersen has done exceptionally well and her exploits today will be watched with keen interest.

SHOOT OPENS PROGRAMME

The ranges will open at 8 o'clock this morning and the large list of events is expected to conclude about 5 p.m. Sergeant Arthur Bishop will be in charge of affairs, assisted by Constable Henry Jones.

The feature race at the Royal Athletic Park will be the half relay race between the police teams. In Vancouver the local team finished in second place a few feet behind the flashy Mainland aggregation. Seattle gained third place. With plenty of training under their belts, the Victoria quartette are expected to make a better showing.

Twenty-nine local bicycle riders have entered the two special cycle events on the programme. With such stars as Chief John Cameron, New Westminster, and Con. Walsh, Seattle, some great competition will, no doubt, be witnessed in the field events. Forty-five dancers from Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle will compete in the Scottish dances.

Following the sports a banquet will be held in the dining-room at the Hudson's Bay Company. Rev. Mr. Stevenson will open the function, while Mayor Herbert Anscomb will make the address of welcome, which will be replied to by George Bucklin, United States Consul. Other speakers will be Chief Bingham, Vancouver; Inspector Olmsted, Seattle; Chief John Cameron, New Westminster, and Chief Stewart, Everett.

The dance at the police headquarters following the banquet will bring the day to a close.

BURKE LEADS CANADIANS AT BISLEY MEET

Former King's Prize Winner Scores 168 in Queen Mary Shoot to Top Dominion Representatives

BIG MATCHES TO START NEXT WEEK

(Canadian Press)

BISLEY, Eng., July 8.—Fine weather conditions still prevail over the wide ranges of Bisley Camp, where hundreds of marksmen are gathered to contest the historic events of the annual meeting of the National Rifle Association.

A hundred of fairly important service shoots have been decided, but the heavy competition will set in on Friday and Saturday of this week. Next week the famous team shoots, the Kolapore and MacKinnon Cups, will be decided along with the classic King's Prize.

Today it was announced that Sergeant-Major Churcher, of the Small Arms School, was winner of the Queen Mary Prize and $100 added money, and also of the Imperial Tobacco Prize, an aggregate of three competitions.

Lieutenant Barlow, of the Small Arms School, winner last week of the British Army rifle championship, won the King's Medal, under service conditions, for the best shot in the army at home. The Territorial Gold Medal for the best score by a member of the Territorial Forces was won by Major Blackmae, of the Royal Sussex Regiment.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, of Ottawa, former King's Prize winner, led Canadians in the Queen Mary shoot with a score of 168, placing tenth and winning $15. Company Sergt.-Major G. N. Emslie, of Toronto, was the Canadian leader in the Imperial Tobacco, decided by scores in the Southern Railway, Junnaird and B.S.U. competitions, winning $5.

Three admirals had a private competition today, Lord Jellicoe winning with only four points short of a highest possible score.

Vancouver Board Wants Right to Reinstate Pros

VANCOUVER, July 8.—The Vancouver local board of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada is going to request the Dominion parent body that the various provincial branches be given the right to reinstate former professional athletes as each branch sees fit. A resolution to that effect was passed at a meeting of the local board last night.

TWO MORE U.S. AQUATIC STARS TO SHOW HERE

Georgia Coleman and Frances Meany, Diving Champions, to Appear at Rotary Club Gala

LOCAL WOMEN ARE BILLED TO RACE

According to a telegraphic dispatch received yesterday from Coach Ray Daughters from Long Beach, California, by T. P. McConnell, of the Rotary Club, two more famous United States mermaids will appear here Friday night at the Crystal Garden in the monster water gala arranged by the Victoria Rotary Club.

Daughters, who is coach of the sensational Helene Madison, of Seattle, is working in conjunction with the local organization in drawing up the programme and booking the swimmers. Up to the present the famous coach has lined up ten feminine stars. Georgia Coleman, of Los Angeles, and Frances Meany, of New York, are the latest additions to the list.

Both are rated as the two best female divers on the continent and their appearance at the Garden will add a great deal more color to the lengthy list of events already carded.

It is also understood that there will be a special match race between Catherine Ames, Catherine Hanf, the twelve-year-old marvel, and Lisa Lindstrom. Several local women are expected to be seen in action in this race, thus making it interesting from the fans' viewpoint. Who the local swimmers will be is not yet settled, but it is expected that members of the Y.M.C.A. and Crystal Garden Swimming Clubs will be chosen by the promoters.

Tickets for the gala went on sale yesterday at Fletcher's Music Store and the Crystal Garden and there is every indication of a packed house.

WOMEN'S SOFTBALL

Axioms and Harmony will clash this evening at the Central Park, upper grounds, at 6:30 o'clock in the only scheduled Women's Softball League fixture. Barney Barnswell and Holman will officiate as umpires.

Diegel Keeps Elbows Level

By SOL METZGER

Going back to the practice of keeping the elbows on the same level at the top and the finish of the swing, let us look at Leo Diegel. You'll find his that way next week when he makes his bid for the National Open title.

To get the elbows on the same level at the top one often has to bend the left arm a bit at the elbow. Leo does. It's all very well to say the left arm must be straight at the top, but few of us are supple enough to keep it so.

If we try to when unable we are in for trouble. A loose left hand grip is bound to result. The wrists will not cock as they should, as Leo's do, and as all good golfers' wrists do at this point. Keep the elbows on the same level, even if the left arm isn't quite straight. Remember that it will straighten as you start down, if you start down with the left pulling the club straight down the right side. Tomorrow—Jones at the top.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Boy With Clock Eyes—Doctors have attempted to explain the clock eyes by prenatal influences. While no satisfactory explanation has yet been offered, medical records contain many similar phenomena, the most famous of which was a French boy of Besancon who has the perfect likeness of a twenty-franc goldpiece in his right eye.

Red Flaherty Flied Out Twice in Same Inning—In a game between Providence and Alletontown, Friday, June 13, 1930, Pitcher Joliffe wound up and shot the ball without hesitating. The umpire called it illegal delivery, but too late for Flaherty to hold his swing, and he landed a deep right to Outfielder Watson. Flaherty was recalled and ordered to bat over, and again sent out a deep right to Watson.

Tilden to Fulfill Contracts; Will Not Play in Cup Tennis

Offer of Alliance and Syndicate to Waive Contracts Flatly Turned Down—U.S. Star Says Dukes Can Clear Path if They Wish

By WALTER TRUMBULL
(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, July 8.—In reply to a message from John N. Wheeler, general manager of the North American Newspaper Alliance and president of the Bell Syndicate, offering to waive contract rights which might prevent the Wimbledon champion from playing on the United States Davis Cup team, William T. Tilden, II., cabled from Holland:

"Thanks wire. No intention to play. The association has power to grant me permission to fulfill contracts and refuses. Why should we sacrifice everything? The responsibility is theirs."

The power of the tennis association, of which Mr. Tilden speaks, refers to Article 3, Section 5, of the amateur rules for tennis, which forbids a number of things, including writing of a tournament in which a player is engaged, "except with the consent of the executive committee."

Joseph W. Wear, of Philadelphia, chairman of the Davis Cup committee, said today:

COMMITTEE DISAPPOINTED

"The committee will be greatly disappointed if Tilden refuses to play. We appreciate the offer of the North American Newspaper Alliance and the Bell Syndicate to release Tilden from his contract, especially as this was done without any solicitation.

"I shall talk to Tilden on the telephone and both Dixon and I will try to induce him to play.

"My opinion is that the committee will not waive any rule for Tilden, in order to win the Davis Cup. The amateur spirit is greater than any victory."

Mr. Wear, of course, was speaking of the executive committee. Neither the Davis Cup committee, Fitz-Eugene Dixon, non-playing captain of the team, nor Louis B. Dailey, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, who also is abroad, would have power to change or waive the rule. The executive committee is composed of the officers of the tennis association, former presidents, sectional delegates and delegates at large. It numbers thirty, and it would be impractical to get the committee together at this time, but provision has been made for a mail or telegraph vote.

Men high in tennis councils, who did not wish their names to be used, gave it as their private opinion that the committee would not even consider waiving the rule. They point out that Davis Cup matches last three days, and that the strain of play is so great that a man selected for the team should get all possible rest, concentrate wholly on the game, and have no outside distractions. They also stated it as their opinion that a man engaged in Davis Cup play was in no frame of mind to write calm, analytical comment.

STORMY PETREL OF GAME

William T. Tilden, II., greatest of players, imperious, brilliant, temperamental, has long been the stormy petrel of tennis. In 1924, when George W. Whitman was at the head of the association, there was trouble and discussion concerning the player-writer. Tilden complained that the rules were hampering and unjust. A committee therefore was named to draft an amateur rule.

This committee consisted of Tilden and W. S. Merrithew, editor of American Lawn Tennis, representing the players; Joseph Mersereau, later president of the association, and Arthur Hellen, of Washington, representing the association; George Wharton Pepper, to advise as to legal aspects; Grantland Rice, representing the press, and Devereaux Milburn, representing amateur ideals in general. This committee of seven worked out the present rule, and it appeared in the rule book of 1925.

In the clay court championships of 1925, at St. Louis, Tilden was accused of violating the rule, and appeared to defend himself before a meeting of the executive committee on August 1 of that year. He finally signed a statement, now in the possession of the committee, which said, in effect:

"As you have concluded that I have done something contrary to rule, I hereby state that I will in the future give no interviews concerning matches in which I am playing; nor write any articles concerning them, nor any resume, until the third day following the completion of the event."

SUSPENDED IN 1928

In 1928, at Wimbledon, Tilden was charged with again violating the rule and was suspended. As a result, he did not play in the matches against Italy. When it came to the challenge round against France, the French, fearing the effect of Tilden's absence on the gate, brought tremendous pressure to bear to have him reinstated. Finally, they went to Ambassador Herrick, and on his representations to Samuel H. Collom, then head of the association, and Joseph W. Wear, who were with the team, and by them cabled to the United States, Tilden was reinstated temporarily and played against France.

On his return home, he was tried by the executive committee, at a special meeting in August, and suspended, so that he did not play in the United States championships of 1928, when Cochet beat Hunter in the final. Tilden's suspension was not lifted until February, 1929. Last Summer he played in the Davis Cup matches and won the final of the United States singles championship from Hunter.

PRINCE BIDS ADIEU TO SIR THOMAS LIPTON

H.R.H. Tenders Official Farewell Message of Great Britain to Famous Yachtsman

OWNER OF NEW YACHT WILL LEAVE SHORTLY

LONDON, July 8.—Britain today officially said farewell to Sir Thomas Lipton, the noted Irish yachtsman on the eve of his fifth attempt to bring back the America's Cup. The Prince of Wales personally conveyed a message of god-speed to Sir Thomas at a complimentary luncheon at Fishmongers Hall which overlooks the 1,000-year-old Billingsgate fish market at London Bridge.

SIR THOS. LIPTON

Sir Thomas is going to sail shortly with his Shamrock V for New York and Newport.

The Prince of Wales said, "all we ask, gentlemen, is a turn of the luck. I believe it will be as popular in America as here if Sir Thomas, at eighty years of age, brings back the America's Cup."

Sir Thomas evinced an enthusiasm which seemed to say "I am not too old as yet. I am going to show them this time."

Rudyard Kipling, who sat two seats away, wearing a soft collar of ample dimensions, nodded his head vigorously.

Diamond Sculls Winner Facing Busy Session

LONDON, July 7.—Jack Guest, of the Don Rowing Club, Toronto, is not going to rest on his laurels. The twenty-four-year-old Canadian sculler, winner on Saturday of the greatly-prized Diamond Sculls at Henley Royal Regatta, has a heavy programme after he returns to Canada.

Boarding the Ascania on Saturday, Guest may likely compete in a regatta at Boston en route to his home. He is to defend his singles title at the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines, Ont. He also hopes to compete in the British Empire games at Hamilton, Ont., next month.

The Ascania is expected to reach Quebec early on July 20 and Montreal the same night.

Lieut.-Governor and Niece Will Attend Saturday's Cricket

Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce and his niece, Miss Margaret Mackenzie, will attend the Victoria and District Cricket League fixture between the Albion Club and the Five C's, on Saturday afternoon at Beacon Hill Park, at 2:30 o'clock. Word to this effect was received by the league officials last night from Government House.

LINEHAM HAS GREAT ROUND AT COLWOOD

Star Local Amateur Flashes Around Colwood Links in 68, Two Under Par Figures

GOES OUT IN 32 AND BACK IN 36

Exploding some of the best golf seen on a local links for many a day, Harold Lineham, crack amateur, breezed around the difficult Colwood Golf and Country Club yesterday afternoon in 68, to slice two strokes from perfect figures. Lineham was playing in a foursome at the time, with Walter Hall, K. C. Allan and Walter Parry. Although Lineham's card is the best ever turned in to the club officials since the course's inception, the word "unofficial" will be written opposite the score in the record books, due to the fact that he was only playing in a friendly match and from the forward tees. The official course record of 70 is held jointly by Walter Pursey, Inglewood Club professional from Seattle, and Bill Savory, amateur at the Rainier Golf Club, Seattle.

HAROLD LINEHAM

Pursey made his mark while playing in the Pacific Northwest open tourney in 1927, while Savory equalled it last year while taking part in the P.N.W. Punch Bowl meet.

On the outgoing nine, Lineham snatched off three birdies and reached the turn in 32, three under par figures. His under par holes were the first, third and fifth. Starting off on the homeward route, Lineham went over par for the first time on the tenth hole, when he required a five. On the next five holes the Colwood flash chalked up four pars and a birdie and looked as if he was good for a 66.

Three-putting the sixteenth and eighteenth greens cost Lineham plenty as he had to be contented with two fives on these holes. His card follows:

Out .... 343 344 344—32
In .... 543 343 545—36—68

O'Doul, hitting two out of three, added three more points to his average, while Chuck Klein registered a one-point gain with two hits in four times up. Paul Waner barely held third place by hitting once in five tries. Babe Ruth was idle.

MAJOR RICHARDSON AND SERGT. BROWN SHOW GREAT FORM

Former Turns in Score of 102 to Lead Flashy Field in Macdonald Brier Match No. 1—Brown Gets Possible in Westminster Event—Keen Competition Marks Various Events

Favorable Weather Conditions For Opening Day of Big Meet

By Staff Representative

HEALS RIFLE RANGES, July 8.—The picturesque and well laid out ranges here came into their own today with the opening of the fifty-second annual prize meet of the British Columbia Rifle Association, when upwards of 100 marksmen, including the best in the province, set out on their annual quest of silver and gold and the hopes of gaining a place on British Columbia's team to the Connaught Rifle Ranges, Ottawa, next month. Slumbering peacefully for days, the country quietness of the ranges was broken today with the continual ping of rifle bullets, while the echoes resounded in the surrounding districts for many miles around.

The scene presented is one of a picturesque nature. The ranges lie at the foot of the Saanich Hills, while the tall timbers present a background of green. Dotted here and there to the right and left of the butts are bell tents with Heals Ranges transformed into a miniature village of canvas. Approximately 300 people, including marksmen, officials of the British Columbia Rifle Association, registrar keepers, markers, cooks, waiters and telephonists comprise the inhabitants of this little village.

Favored by ideal weather, shooting conditions today were good. In the morning a slight fishtail head wind blew, but had little effect on the scoring. In the afternoon the wind dropped somewhat and blew from the right, diagonally across the ranges.

Honors in the two individual matches shot today went to two veteran marksmen: Major Fred Richardson, O.B.E., 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, winning the Macdonald Brier match No. 1; and Sergeant S. S. Brown, of the same unit, annexing the honors in the Westminster match.

MAJOR RICHARDSON WINS

Putting on 102 out of a possible 105, Major Richardson, many times a member of the Canadian team to Bisley, annexed the honors in the Macdonald Brier match No. 1 from a select field of British Columbia's marksmen. Private Grant, 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver, finished second, one point below the winner.

Major Richardson came back to the 600-yard range, the last in the match, with a 68, while Grant had a 67. On the last range each of the marksmen put on 34, both sinking an inner on their last shot.

Q.M.S. "Badgey" Evans, Garrison Rifle Association, with 100, finished third.

VETERAN SETS PACE

Sergeant Brown, twice a member of the Canadian team to Bisley, set the pace in the Westminster Match, the first competition fired today, by putting on ten consecutive bull'seyes for a possible of 50. It marked the first victory of this veteran shot in many trips to these ranges. Eight other marksmen finished with 49's, one point behind the winner.

Sergeant F. V. Richardson, 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, had the best 49, and was awarded second place. Next came Major Fred Richardson, who also had 49. S.-M. Jimmie Read, Garrison Rifle Association; Captain F. Gardiner, Vancouver Regiment, and Inspector Sandys-Wunch, R.C.M.P., all with 49, tied for fourth place honors. Three other local marksmen to score 49 were Q.M.S. "Badgey" Evans, Garrison; Q.M.S. J. Kennedy, Garrison, and Sergeant B. Drysdale, Canadian Scottish.

The shooting in this match was exceptionally good, with three 47's being counted out of the prize money.

ANOTHER BLAIR

Bugler J. M. Blair, 72nd Seaforth Highlanders, sixteen-year-old son of Colonel R. M. Blair, commandant of the Canadian team at Bisley, showed that he was a "chip off the old block" by annexing the honors in the Tyro Match by putting on 24 out of a possible 35. This match called for seven shots at a range of 200 yards. Private M. D. Fisher, of the same unit, was second with 33.

Tomorrow's programme follows:

Luque Adds Color to Brooklyn Team

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

The astounding come-back of Adolfo Luque, the Cuban pitcher, is one of the main reasons for the great race the Brooklyn Robins are making this year.

Luque, probably the most famous ball player of all the Cubans, was born at Havana, March 3, 1891. He is not a big man and even now stands five feet ten and weighs but little over 160 pounds.

Luque has the dark, sun-tanned skin of his race, with a quiet, retiring disposition, but will fight on the drop of the hat. One day in Cincinnati John McGraw was "riding" him from the Giant bench. Luque stood it for several innings and then in the middle of an inning he walked out of the pitcher's box over to the bench and firmly and efficiently socked the Giant leader in the nose.

He has control, a good fast ball and a deceptive fast curve. But even more than this he has endurance. He has never had a sore arm and is always ready to pitch.

If Brooklyn wins the pennant this year, just imagine the excitement in Havana, when radio and scoreboard announce as pitcher for Brooklyn, Adolfo Luque, the baseball idol of the Republic of Cuba.

Guest Anxious To Meet Pearce At Empire Games

(Canadian Press Cable)

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 8.—Two of the greatest amateur scullers in the world today may clash in the sculling events of the Empire games at Hamilton, Ont., next August. Jack Guest, of Toronto, twenty-four-year-old Canadian winner of the historic Diamond Sculls at Henley last Saturday, told the Canadian Press today he was most anxious to beat "Bob" Pearce, great Australian sculler, who won the singles championship at the Olympic Games of 1928.

Guest was asked whether he would take part in the Empire games, and replied he was going to find out about it when he returned to Canada shortly.

Pearce is a member of the Australian team which is now on its way to Canada for the Empire games.

OXFORD GETS 314 RUNS IN FIRST INNINGS

Dark Blues Rally Strongly After Shaky Start Against Cambridge in Annual Cricket Match

MOORE AND FORD TEAM UP STRONGLY

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, July 8.—Four batsmen today shared the honors of a stand which brought Oxford University into a much improved position in their ninety-second interuniversity cricket match with Cambridge. Oxford yesterday lost three wickets for but 68 runs. Today the Dark Blues scored 314 runs, all out

Cambridge, who had made 288 runs yesterday, were 102 for three wickets when stumps were pulled today

Moore and Ford, the overnight not-outs, began for Oxford this morning on a good wicket. An hour and a half's batting produced 81 runs, a record for a fourth wicket partnership before Moore was caught. He had scored 59. Melville got a three and then hit an easy catch to the bowler at the other end, Brown Ford's wicket fell on a catch by Chuman.

After lunch Garland-Wells scored 50 runs for 87 added in 75 minutes by himself and Hill-Wood. Garland-Wells was caught leg before wicket by Hazelrigg. Hill-Wood was caught at 47 and Peebles 26, not out, was the best of the remainder of the Oxford efforts. A feature of the innings was the 42 extras let skip by the Cambridge wicket-keeper.

One of Cambridge's best wickets, that of Kemp-Welch fell for eight runs.

NO INTERLUDES AT INTERLACHEN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 7.—There are some fine golf courses where the tee shot is the dominating factor. You either hit your drive as it ought to be hit in regard to length and direction, or you get out the big spade and start digging in sand or underbrush.

There are other good golf courses where the tee shot is only fairly important, but one must be master of the irons to get around close to par. This means open space from the tee but a terrain full of trouble around the green, and above all things the medal play golfer dreads an excursion into the sanded abysses where anything might happen.

For example, it was just such an occasion that cost George Von Elm a nine at Hoylake, although he was within thirty yards of the pin on his second shot. This Interlachen test, where the next open starts Thursday morning, seems to be a strong combination of [illegible]

Here they say to you: "First hit your tee shot to the right place, but when you have done that the problem is only half over, for there is plenty of trouble also waiting for a second shot that isn't massaged in correct fashion."

Interlachen is going to put them all to work and it isn't going to give them many resting places along the trail, by which I mean certain interludes of carelessness that won't be penalized. It will make them keep hitting the ball with wood and iron, with driver and brassie and spoon, with their No. 2's, their No. 3's, their mashie and their shorter pitches.

LENGTH AND CONTROL

There are slopes to the left and slopes to the right that must be watched as they run to matted trouble. There are hills and vales, plateaus and valleys, uplands and lowlands to be faced and conquered. And there must be plenty of hitting. Just consider a few of these distances where power will be a most important item.

Hole	Yards
First	[illegible]
Fourth	506
Ninth	485
Eleventh	484
Twelfth	530
Fourteenth	444

And these longer ranges are all well guarded from tee to green by the luxuriant rough of the Northwest, or by the implacable pits and traps that man has devised to assist nature in torturing the nerve-wrecked player.

Consider also the short holes:

Hole	Yards
Three	[illegible]
Five	[illegible]
Thirteenth	[illegible]
Seventeenth	[illegible]

Here again there will be few birdies fluttering around these velvet greens. Long irons and woods must be called on, and they must be controlled. But once controlled there will be less premium on putting, especially approach putting, as the greens are none too large and expansive. When you hit the green, a big part of your trouble is over. But, as they say about green pastures, they play, "don't miss it."

These holes mentioned all have different qualities, due to the ever changing contours of highland and lowland.

TESTING THE LEADERS

"Will this course," some one has asked, "suit Bobby Jones?"

What course doesn't suit a man who can drive 250 yards or more on a bee line and slap any variety of irons upon the green? Jones has a fine combination of power and control for his long game and those six longer holes referred to above will be down his alley, if he is playing his game. And no one can accuse him often of playing anyone else's game.

You and I might almost play Hagen's game one day and then adopt the game of a blind cripple a day or two later, just by way of variety. To Jones the "spice of life" isn't variety—it's the monotony of consistency, most of the time at least.

But he realizes on this occasion he has a harder job than he faced at St. Andrews or at Hoylake, so far as talent is concerned. At neither of these golfing centres did he have to face Hagen, Armour, Sarazen, Farrell, Denny Shute, Mehlhorn, Dudley and a flock of younger stars capable of assaulting par with all the vim and confidence of younger years that have yet to find how quickly the human pulse can start backfiring in a pinch.

And he must still ward away those two hard-battling pros who trailed him abroad—Leo Diegel and Horton Smith. They are in no sense discouraged and will go back to the big job of trying to beat Jones with renewed determination.

TWO ANGLES

These practice rounds at Interlachen mean almost nothing. Golf, in practice, is an entirely different game than golf under a championship strain. The swing is only part of it. In these title pursuits it is the mental and nerve side that counts, the ability to keep unbroken concentration through the milling mobs that thunder along the turf.

No one can get anywhere in these engagements just by playing shots. He must think through them to win, think of the right thing at the right time, and fight off discouragement through weedy patches of play without permitting one of two mistakes to break up his concentration on the next stroke. Hagen was always a master at this. So was Jerry Travers. So was Walter J. Travis. And so is Bobby Jones.

Among the others I think Horton Smith comes closer to approaching the ability to keep his concentrated efforts working and is for that reason always dangerous, since he can also hit the ball and hole his share of putts. If Leo Diegel can chain down his overeagerness he will make anybody step, since he is capable of the most spectacular results. But the cool, determined concentrators, such as Jones and Hagen, have the top chances in these long seventy-two-hole marches.

And this applies especially to the short game, to chip shots and to putting, where the mental side is under a greater strain, where there is less action in the swing to help relieve tension. And there is plenty of tension in these open championships, more than you might think.

Watch the strained expressions when some of them start trying to hole out the five and six-foot putts that look so simple—and are sometimes tougher than wrestling with a king Cobra when your eye can't quite find the line.

The play of Hagen, after a long rest from home competition will be one of the interesting features. The roving Walter has been bumping around the world since last Winter, but some 25,000 miles of travel haven't affected his swing. Hagen, Horton Smith and Diegel should carry three of the largest galleries, apart from the stampeding multitude that will follow the young Atlanta barrister, who will be more of a high spot than ever. Hagen can nearly always be counted on for a stirring show, and the same is usually true of Diegel and Horton Smith, who have personalities that catch the fancy of the crowds. Gene Sarazen and Jimmy Johnston are two others who will not move unattended around the battlefield, and both should do extremely well.

Touring Balltossers Down Duncan Easily

DUNCAN, July 8. — Sixteen hits off Robinson, combined with eight errors by his teammates, gave Montesano, Washington, a 15-3 victory over the Duncan nine here Sunday. Wingard, on the mound for the visitors, was touched up for nine hits, but a single error in centre field was all that could be charged against the visitors' fielding. Lind and Wingard, of Montesano, and Elliot, for Duncan, contributed three-baggers, and Wiley made a circuit clout. H. Williams umpired the game.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Honky Tonk," Warner Bros.' latest production now at the Columbia Theatre, presents Sophie Tucker as an entertainer in a spectacular night club in New York City. In real life, Miss Tucker has filled exactly the same positions at Reisenwebers and the Playground in New York, the Rendezvous in Chicago, the Kit Kat Club in London.

CAPITOL THEATRE Movie fans who see "Spring Is Here" at the Capitol Theatre, will have to check their programmes carefully in order not to confuse the two Grays, Lawrence and Alexander. Both of these popular young actors take important roles in the production, presenting Bernice Claire as the feminine lead.

COLISEUM THEATRE A love affair between sworn enemies provides the plot excitement of "This Mad World," the William de Mille Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, which is now at the Coliseum Theatre. Basil Rathbone, a French spy behind German lines, finds his perilous mission complicated by a sudden love affair with Kay Johnson, a beautiful German girl of high station.

DOMINION THEATRE The technique of the screen differs entirely from that of the stage. This fact was clearly realized by Joe E. Brown, the noted comedian who heads the all-star cast of the natural color Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which is now playing at the Dominion Theatre for the last times today. In addition to Brown, the cast of "Hold Everything" includes Winnie Lightner, Georges Carpentier and Sally O'Neil.

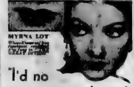

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE One of the most spectacular scenes in Tiffany's all-talking, all-Technicolor production, "Mamba," showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is the burning to the ground of a big African village set. The sequence depicts a night attack on the village by native blacks and the attack and the resulting fire, all done in Technicolor, are said to be most spectacular and thrilling.

KING OPENS INDIA HOUSE

Hopes for Emergence of India From Present Era to Days of Peace and Contentment

NEW BUILDING IS FINE STRUCTURE

(Associated Press)

LONDON, July 8.—A new India house was opened in London by the King today with an expression of hope for the emergence of India from her present troublous era into days of peace and contentment.

The restoration of a true understanding of the unity of the greater Commonwealth of which India is a part, King George said, "would aid in solving India's destiny."

The building, a beautiful new governmental structure in the heart of London, will house the various trade and commercial interests of India, as do the buildings occupied by the several Dominions' offices in London.

A HAPPY AUGURY

"At this critical period of India's history, when the thoughts of all who love that country are centred upon constructive effort and upon laying well and truly the foundation of India of the future," the King asserted, "I regard it as a happy augury to be able to open a building, which marks the end of one period of advancement and the beginning of a new.

"But India House stands for more than that. As I look around me I see emblems of the religions, the provinces and the States of India. This building, which contains them, surely testifies to the unity of India in her self. The position of India among those of the sister nations here in the centre of my capital further symbolizes the unity of the great Commonwealth of which she is a part. For a deeper realization of that twofold unity I most earnestly pray.

"During recent months I watched with anxious heart the troublous passage of events. Trusting in the divine guidance, I hopefully await the day that shall restore the gift of true understanding and thus unite every race and creed in one desire to bring peace and contentment to my Indian people.

TENDERS CONGRATULATIONS

"On the successful issue of your plans I congratulate you, Sir Atul Chandra, and all those who have been associated with you. Foremost amongst these was Sir Herbert Baker, who has impressed his genius upon so many continents as the architect of more than one of the great buildings in the Imperial capital at Delhi. It is most appropriate that he should also be the designer of this India House in London.

"I have now much pleasure in declaring India House open, and I trust that it may not only serve the material progress of that country, but by spreading sound knowledge may it foster between the peoples of India and Great Britain that wider sympathy for which I have pleaded many years and plead again today."

WEST INDIES TRADE

Sir,—I have just been handed a copy of a pamphlet issued by the national Liberal committee, of Ottawa, and under date of June, 1930, which I understand is being circulated here in connection with the present Federal election campaign. I quote from the pamphlet:

"Living up fully to its side of the bargain, the Canadian Government, through the Canadian National Steamships, provided a completely equipped steamship service, with special provision for cold storage facilities, in order to promote an exchange of tropical fruits from the West Indies and agricultural products from Canada. The results of the new agreement and steamship service became apparent. In 1926, when the present treaty came into force, Canada's trade with the West Indies stood at $33,000,000. At the close of the fiscal year 1928, it stood at $45,000,000, etc."

Quite so, but perhaps the Liberal candidates will explain that these specially fitted steamers are provided only to run between Eastern Canada and the West Indies. British Columbia has had none of these ships and the trade which has developed through the so-called subsidized steamers amounts to only about $1,000,000; while Eastern Canada gets $44,000,000. Western Canada can, with justice, ask why this discrimination against the Coast?

As regards the subsidized steamship service from Vancouver to the West Indies, mentioned in the pamphlet, like most of the agreements and trade treaties made by the Mackenzie King Administration, the subsidy agreement has been carelessly drawn up. As I understand it, the contract was and still is, given to the Canadian Transport Company, a subsidiary company controlled by a private export company handling lumber. The agreement, I am informed, only provides for a subsidy of $3,000 per voyage for an approximate monthly service between Vancouver and the West Indies. There was no stipulation as to what ports of call the boats have to make, nor any schedule arranged. The West Indies include Jamaica, Trinidad, Barbados, St. Vincent, St. Kitts, St. Nevis and all the other Lesser Antilles. So far as the Canadian Transport Company is concerned, it can call at any or all the ports. No exporter who may have an inquiry from, say, Jamaica, can tell when he may expect a boat. There is no dependability about the whole thing. The subsidy may benefit the export company which controls the Canadian Transport Company, but for the development of trade it is far too unreliable.

The Canadian Transport Company owns no steamers itself, but relies upon chartering. The subsidy agreement makes no provision that, to benefit from the subsidy, only British or Canadian steamers could be used, as one has a right to expect if one can believe Mr. Mackenzie King's constant reiteration that he favors British preferences. Now, it is well known that there are a lot of ships unemployed in England, yet most of the boats under charter to the Canadian Transport Company have been Scandinavian. So much for a practical proof of his British preference.

The service is only one way, as most of the ships chartered are only for the trip, with the exception of a little boat called the Lycia, which comes back to Vancouver once every three or four months, and then there is no knowing from what port or ports she will come.

For two years, up to April this year, no boat from the Canadian Transport Company has called at Jamaica either way. Recent inquiries in Vancouver brought me the information that the Canadian Transport Company has an arrangement with Messrs. Swayne & Holt, of San Francisco, who own the Gulf Line, under which the Canadian Transport Company abandons Jamaica to the Gulf Line in return for the Gulf Line not competing in Trinidad and the Lesser Antilles.

How can business be developed under a subsidy agreement so loosely drawn up? Eastern Canada has a weekly service, half of which is maintained by the new specially-equipped boats for the carrying of fresh fruits and vegetables, but Western Canada is left to slow tramp steamers of foreign registry, keeping an irregular service, and calling at irregular ports. How can business be built up this way? Eastern Canada gets its bananas at 55 cents a bunch, while Western Canada pays $1.68, plus an import duty of 50 cents per bunch. Eastern Canada buys its cocoanuts, of which it imported nearly 6,000,000 at an average cost of $1.91 per 100, while Western Canada pays $6 per 100. Eastern Canada pays $9.50 per cwt. for cocoa beans while Western Canada pays $12.00 per cwt.

There are over forty items in the imports of Jamaica which are produced or produceable in British Columbia, but through lack of shipping we are left out, while Eastern Canada gets 90 per cent of the trade. The lack of properly equipped steamers has cost the housewives of Western Canada over $2,000,000 in the one item of bananas alone, yet Mr. Mackenzie King has not seen fit to provide Western Canada with similar facilities as Eastern Canada and his candidates are silent on the subject. Perhaps Mr. Mackenzie King is afraid of provoking his friends, the United States fruit interests.

Jamaica imports about 125,000 tons of coal, of which about 80,000 tons goes from the United States. Perhaps that is one of the explanations of Mr. King's inactivity regarding the interests of the Pacific Coast.

RIVAL ECONOMIC POLICIES

Sir,—After traveling from the Atlantic Ocean, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King came to the shores of the Pacific proclaiming the many virtues of the Dunning budget and the adoption of it as his platform, together with his past administration and his ability to represent Canada at the Empire Economic Conference. His oratorical platitudes and plaudits on cause were most admirable, but his adroitness in sidestepping effect must give us pause. Of his tariff-tinkering sowing, we are now reaping the harvest of unemployment with its direful effects.

He remarked that Mr. Bennett said that with himself Canada came first, but with him it was not Canada or Britain but the Empire as a whole. Following this remark, he stated that Canada had now become and was recognized as a definite entity in this Commonwealth of Nations captioned under the name of the British Empire. Then it must be the duty and obligation of Canada to work out her own salvation to become a worthy member of this galaxy of nations.

A few days ago, at Mitchell, Ont., Mr. Dunning, the author of the Dunning budget, stated: "I freely admit the charge that I framed this budget with a view to aid in the sale of Canada's wheat crop abroad." The only deduction that can be drawn from this is that he is willing to sacrifice the industrial life of Canada with his preferentials to create sentimentality in Britain to sell our wheat crop and make Canada a British farm. Such abject subserviency must bring a blush of shame to every true-blooded Canadian. We still have our wheat.

A few days ago, in England, a number of bankers, among them representatives from the Bank of England, Glyn's, Lloyd's, Baring Bros., Westminster and Midlands, all ardent free traders, stated that free trade was a dead issue so long as other nations imposed tariff restrictions and for the betterment of the Empire some mutual satisfactory reciprocal measures—not Empire free trade—should be undertaken by the units of the Empire, and it would be necessary for Britain to impose tariff measures as against those without the Empire. At present we, like Britain, are being administered by a hybrid Government, and by a strange coincidence, in both cases, the tail is wagging the dog.

Mr. King asked that we forget party fealty and commune with ourselves on the economic issues of the day. So say we all. It is a most epochal time in the history of our great Empire and Canada, from the latter's geographical position and her area and wonderful varied resources, stands preeminently forth as the Empire's most promising unit. At the Imperial Conference in September its units will be represented by men whose object it will be to work for the best interests of their respective lands. Eliminating party fealty, let us ask ourselves who is most capable to best serve the interests of Canada, to uphold its dignity yet secure reciprocal equality. Rt. Hon. Lyon Mackenzie King, with his ingrained shibboleths of free trade and his expressed leanings toward Empire free trade, or Hon. R. B. Bennett, a fervid and staunch advocate of the National Policy, that has been so instrumental in making Canada, with its meagre population, the most developed country in the world.

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO WORK

Sir,—With reference to R. B. D., in his column of July 4, where he comments on the attitude of a certain Vancouver alderman regarding married women working, I wish to state that R. B. D. is on the wrong track. This alderman is perfectly right in preventing married women working, providing their husbands are working also. To me it seems he can vision clearer than the majority of mere men. These married women he refers to are not widows, or even grass widows; they are women whose husbands are making fair salaries.

How R. B. D., an old-timer, can stand for seeing so many young people unemployed whilst married women are working, is beyond my comprehension, because, I always imagined he came from the place where they always fought for justice. It is not just to employ married women, even if they are, in many cases, more reliable. We find them in our offices, stores, professions, etc. Even if we women have got the vote, it does not entitle married women to any other than political appointments and social service work, for which I consider a woman who has been married and raised a family should be particularly suited.

We all know there are husbands who won't work if wifey does. These fellows should be put on the rock pile for a while. There are others who never saved a cent before they married, and won't do so after marriage. Well, their wives should not be allowed to work. It should be a fifty-fifty game.

Another thing I would like to open R. B. D.'s eyes to is the fact that many young people in both Vancouver and Victoria who have well-to-do parents, get the positions that people in poorer circumstances should have, for the bare necessities of life, whilst these better off young people simply spend every cent on clothes and what they call a good time.

FRY PLANTED IN PROSPECT LAKE

Ten Thousand Minute Members of Finny Tribe Released by Cowichan Hatchery Officials

Ten thousand cut-throat fry were planted in Prospect Lake Monday afternoon by officials of the Dominion Fish Hatchery at Cowichan River. The minute members of the finny tribe, which will provide sport for fishermen within a couple of years, were brought down in an automobile and were in excellent shape when released.

The fish were contained in the usual tins during the trip and generous quantities of ice were packed around to keep the water at a good temperature.

REEVE RIDICULES VOTE OF CENSURE

Says Impossible for Saanich Council Now to Take Action Over Polling Booths

Following upon the unanimous vote of censure passed upon the Saanich Council on Monday night by a meeting of Ward 7 ratepayers, Reeve William Crouch yesterday told The Colonist that this would have no effect upon members of the council.

The vote of censure arose from the fact that the council has failed to provide more than one polling booth for the district, which is comprised of Ward 3, part of Ward 7, and a small portion of Ward 1, residents of which will be called upon on Saturday to vote on the garbage collecting by-law.

"The thing was such a manifest absurdity," declared Reeve Crouch, "as hardly to warrant any comment. Needless to say it would be impossible for the council, at the eleventh hour, to provide for any more polling booths in the district. In order to do this we should have to start the readings of the by-law all over again, a proceeding which would cause great delay and considerable expense. The polling booth for Saturday will be in the centre of the district and is in the logical spot for the purpose."

Contract Bidding

	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.	3rd Rd.
South	Pass	1 N. T.	Pass
West	Pass	Pass	Pass
North	1 ♦	2 N. T.
East	Pass	Pass

Though it is often properly said that the best defence is a bold offence, there are some occasions where failure to reveal values held will often lead the opponents into a bad situation.

This is especially true where partner has failed to bid as Dealer or second hand, and own hand is such that there seems a reasonable hope that opponent to left may bid a No-Trump over his partner's Minor suit bid; the passing hand being well able to stand any lead that partner might make against such No Trump.

Such a situation is well illustrated by the above hand. North opens the bidding Third Hand with a bid of one Diamond. Although East holds 2½ Quick Tricks with the Jack of Hearts in addition, he should pass. If he had been Second Hand, an informative double of Declarer's one No-Trump would be justified though it is a border-line situation. Since he is Fourth Hand, and his partner has failed to bid Second Hand, the best he can really hope for is to have South play the hand at No-Trump, in which case he can well support any opening lead that West may make.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction: South and West passing, North bids one Diamond. East passing, South, with stoppers in Spades and Clubs and a No-Trump distribution, bids one No-Trump, closing the bidding.

Contract: The bidding is the same as at Auction except that North, with somewhat better than a minimum Third Hand Diamond bid, bids two No-Trumps, which is the final declaration.

THE PLAY

West opens the Four of Spades North plays the Seven and East the Queen. He does not play the Ace for the reason that should he do so, South, who must almost of necessity hold the King of Spades in order to have two suits stopped, can hold off until the third round of Spades and West may have no entry in own hand other than the Spade.

If West should happen to have the King of Spades, no harm is done by playing the Queen, as the Ace and Eight may be led to the succeeding tricks.

South cannot afford to pass up this Queen of Spades, for he has no reason to suspect that East holds the Ace, and if he does not, the King would never take a trick.

The natural play, therefore, is for South to take the first trick with the King of Spades and take the finesse in Diamonds, leading the Ten. This trick East wins with the King of Diamonds. East then lays down the Ace of Spades, followed by the Eight. After taking all of his Spades, West leads a Heart and no matter how Declarer plays the hand from then on, he can make but four Diamonds, one Spade, one Heart and one Club, or seven in all.

Although West might by very clever play be able to make two odd in Spades, it is unreasonable to assume that such a contract would have been arrived at, since East could not well afford to assist a Spade bid made in response to an informative double, while North may readily rebid Diamonds, or South give an assist to such bid in view of the fact that it was made third hand. North and South can, of course, make two Diamonds, possibly three, if the defence is not top notch.

BILLY TOWNSEND LOSES TO MEDILL

Vancouver Boy Outclassed in Latter Part of Ten-Round Mix by Chicagoan

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Joe Medill, Chicago, took a ten-round decision from Billy Townsend, Vancouver, B.C., here tonight. Medill, who weighed 142 pounds, outclassed Townsend in the latter part of the fight.

Townsend, who weighed 141 1-2, started strong, taking the first and second rounds. The third was even and Medill had a slight edge in the fourth. The Chicago boy speeded up, taking all the rounds to the tenth, when Townsend rallied, but only broke even.

Throughout, Townsend's celebrated right found no target on the clever Medill's body. There was no semblance of a knockdown, but Medill rolled up a large majority of the points scored.

Ed. Dudley Tops Pros In Medal Competition

Likely to Be Dark Horse in National Open Golf Meet—Farrell Going Strong—Jones Is Real Leader

By J. P. GLASS

Mr. Ed. Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., may be the dark horse of the National Open Championship which will be played July 10, 11 and 12 at the Interlachen Club, Minneapolis. Capturing the Shawnee Open with the second lowest score in the history of this time-honored event—a dazzling 282—Edward has jumped to the front of the professional medalists of the country, passing even the renowned Horton Smith.

Dudley's 1930 medal average to date is 72 9-20 strokes to the round, just the same as that of Olin Dutra, the Los Angeles expert. However, he has played 40 rounds of tournament golf to Dutra's 30.

Coming East seems to have benefitted tall Ed.'s game. He has steadily improved since he located at Wilmington. If he is on his game at Interlachen he is apt to be troublesome.

Another star to be watched in the National Open is Johnny Farrell, who this year is playing in the form which made him champion in 1928.

In the Shawnee Open, Johnny's 288 was not quite good enough to win, but when he introduced the same score into the New York State Championship it proved sufficient to relieve Bill Burke of the crown he won in 1929. Incidentally, Johnny has jumped ahead of Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa in the medal averages, and is right at the heels of Horton Smith.

Vincent Dolp, the newest Portland, Ore., star, making his first competitive trip East, took it on the chin in the inter-collegiate championship qualifying rounds, and dropped back in the averages. His 75 in the second round, however, was sufficient to show he has the stuff.

Phil Perkins captured the Apawamis Invitation medal with a fine 72. The ex-Britisher now has reduced his average to 74 5-6 strokes per round. At this gait he is slightly better than Leo Diegel, John Golden, George Voigt, George Von Elm and several other stars on this Summer's showing.

The averages.

B.C. POLO TITLE AT STAKE TODAY

Kamloops and Vancouver Sides Will Meet for Championship at Brighouse

VANCOUVER, July 8. — Polo teams from Vancouver and Kamloops will chase the willow ball around the field at Brighouse today, in an endeavor to determine the champions of British Columbia for the coming year. Kamloops, always a strong competitor for the polo laurels, will once again be attempting to lift the British Columbia Polo Challenge Cup, held at present by Vancouver.

Experience is on the side of the Interior team this time, and they expect to give the Coast players a real tussle of it before the issue is decided.

Bull's-Eyes

In winning the Westminster match, Sergeant S. S. Brown, 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, veteran marksman, proved conclusively that there is more truth than fiction in the age-old phrase, "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again." Sergeant Brown has been attending meets at Heals rifle ranges for a number of years, but until his victory yesterday he was just "another competitor." His feat, that of winning the Westminster match with ten bulls eyes, is one worthy of mention.

* * *

Organization is the success of any venture, and it is doubtful if the many marksmen who are shooting at Heals, realize the organizing work needed to make the meet the success that it has been for many years. Credit for this successful administration is due to Master Gunner H. "Lottie" Collings, hard working and efficient secretary of the B.C.R.A. The Master Gunner has been doing this job and doing it well for many years, and the writer feels confident that his services are appreciated by the many members of the B.C.R.A.

Veteran Shot Shows Up Well At Bisley Meet

(Canadian Press Cable)

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 8—Sergeant Mackay, of Scotland, is seventy-eight years of age. He won the King's Prize classic for Empire marksmen—though it was called the Queen's Prize then—back in 1883. But if anybody thinks he is losing his keen eye and steady hand, he has only to point to the score card he hung up at the Bisley meet today—six consecutive bullseyes at 300 yards.

Eagles Will Be Out to Humble Jokers Tonight

DETERMINED to break their losing streak, Eagles will be at full strength when they oppose the Jokers at the Royal Athletic Park tonight, at 6:15 o'clock, in a Senior Amateur Baseball League fixture. Dan Lidston, star slab artist in the feathered tribe's camp, is expected to go to the mound, while Holden will perform for the Jokers.

MRS. COCHRAN BELIEVED HER CASE HOPELESS

Had Suffered 30 Long Years Before She Got Sargon—Now Well, She Says

"From the time I was a comparatively young woman, I had been suffering with stomach trouble and a nervous condition that I thought I would never be able to end. Then I started the Sargon treatment, and

MRS. WM. N. COCHRAN

I never would have believed that any medicine in the world could have done as much for anybody as this medicine did for me.

"My nerves were in a terrible condition. I suffered with awful pains in my right side day and night. I don't believe anybody ever suffered more than I did, for I went through almost thirty years of it. Several times I was told to get ready for the operating table. Each time I would put it off, hoping that I would finally find a medicine that would make the operation unnecessary. I practically had no appetite at all, I simply couldn't find a food that didn't upset me. Many a night I have gone practically sleepless with pains in my side and stomach, and I would get up in the mornings with my nerves on edge, tired, sick and almost exhausted. I was constipated, bilious, run-down and miserable.

"From the first few doses of Sargon I began to feel better. The way my appetite came back and my stomach trouble left me seems little less than a miracle. I eat anything in the world I want, and I never even have the slightest trace of stomach trouble. The pain in my right side is gone. My nerves are normal. I enjoy wonderfully refreshing sleep, and my entire system is toned up and invigorated. Now I am so much stronger and more energetic. Why, everyone I know notices it, and I am just like a different person.

"The first natural bowel movement I have had in years, I owe to Sargon Soft Mass Pills. It is certainly a joy to know that all my terrible constipation and billiousness is over, and when I say these pills are as wonderful as Sargon, I don't know of any higher praise I could give them. They have never nauseated or upset me, but are wonderfully effective."

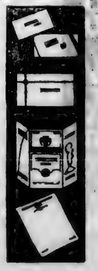

The above statement was recently made by Mrs. Wm. N. Cochran, of 1147 Harrison St., Portland, Oregon.

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores and in New Westminster from the Bews Drug Co. (Advt.)

FINANCE - COMMERCE - MARKETS

Net Gains in Equity Shares Are Small on New York Mart; Trading Is Again Tranquil

NEW YORK, July 8.—The financial markets were in two frames of mind today. Generally speaking, prices of stocks and commodities declined in the morning and rallied in the afternoon as professionals switched from the selling to the buying side.

Net gains in equity shares were small, but some of the early losses had been sizeable, so the market gave a reasonable demonstration of its resistance. Trading was again extremely dull.

Early selling of stocks was concentrated on United States Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Westinghouse, North American and other prominent shares whose moves the market is apt to follow. There were sharp breaks in Ingersoll-Rand, People's Gas, Allied Chemical, Atchison and Johns-Manville, the last named touching 72, the lowest price in three years.

United States Steel was the leader of the rally, finishing 2 points net higher.

American Can, Borden, General Electric, General Motors, Chrysler, Nash, Gillette, Studebaker, Auburn Auto, Southern Railway, Atchison, New York Central, General Electric, Union Pacific, and Westinghouse Electric were up a point or two on the day.

Money seeking investment flowed into the listed bond market at a moderate rate today to facilitate the advancement of high grade issues toward new high prices for the year.

WHEAT REACTS AFTER MAKING SET OF LOWS

Rallies in Chicago Pit to Above Previous Close—Export of 2,000,000 Bushels Overnight

TREND IN WHEAT IS FOLLOWED BY CORN

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

CHICAGO, July 8.—Wheat, after establishing another set of new lows for the season, reacted and rallied to above the previous day's final figures. Talk of black rust by a private crop observer now in the neighborhood of Bradley, South Dakota, with reports from Spring wheat sections of hot muggy weather alarmed shorts and started a covering movement which forced prices steadily upward.

Advices from seaboard reported export business overnight at about 2,000,000 bushels, evenly divided between Manitobas and hard Winters. Receipts at seven principal Southwest points were about 2,500 cars. Primary arrivals were 1,810,000 bushels against 2,487,000 a year ago, and deliveries on July contracts were 86,000 bushels. Liverpool closed 1 to 1 1-4 lower, with Buenos Aires 1-8 higher at 11:30. Canadian visible increased [illegible] for the [illegible].

Corn followed the trend in wheat, with shorts on defensive for the most part, with prices enjoying fair gains. Primary receipts were 447,000 bushels vs. [illegible],000 a year ago. The Argentine Government estimates the crop at 247,500,000 bushels, which was construed as bullish.

Oats steadied with wheat and other grains after making new lows on July and December early. Deliveries were 45,000 bushels. Rye also was firm in a slow, dull trade.

Money at Work

Earning—Saving—Investing

Would it fully replace the loss of your property?

Money invested in factories or homes should be protected by fire and tornado insurance. Appraisals should determine the amount of insurance.

• • •

Frequently owners of property discover after a fire that by insuring on original cost the amount collected from the insurance companies will not replace the destroyed property. This frequently causes the failure of a business.

Most insurance policies have a provision known as the "Co-Insurance Clause," which states that the insurance companies are liable only for such proportion of the loss as the insurance bears to 80 per cent of the value of the property.

If a property would cost $100,000 to replace today, $80,000 insurance should be carried. If only $40,000 is carried and a $20,000 loss occurs, the owners will only collect $10,000.

To determine today's value every property owner should employ an appraisal company and carry insurance on the basis of its report.

NORDON REPORT SHOWS GROWTH

COMPANY GREATLY INCREASES HOLDINGS IN MANY DIFFERENT LOCALITIES

Engineers Appraise Company's Property at Total Value of Over Eight Million

(Mason & Diespecker)

TORONTO, July 8.—Following is a summary of an interim report of the operations and development of Nordon Corporation:

"During the last eight months the company has greatly augmented its holdings in many different localities, with the result that the total lease and royalty holdings now amount to 248,307 acres.

"In Western Canada leases and lease options now total 161,820 acres, and include acreage on a majority of the favorable prospects in this territory. These holdings consist of large blocks and spreads in the Rocky Mountain front on prospective structures, geologically similar to the profitable Turner Valley oil field and in the plains area of Southern Alberta, north of the Kevin Sunburst field, where considerable activity is now taking place.

"In the United States the company now owns leases and royalties on 86,487 acres.

"A considerable portion of the holdings is now entering on a period of development which the management confidently expects will result in discoveries which will greatly enhance their value.

"At the request of new interests who have recently acquired a substantial financial interest in the company, a valuation of the company's properties was completed by engineers of high standing familiar with the district in which the company operates.

"The completed report shows a total present engineer's value of $8,016,000 divided as follows: Canadian holdings, $3,868,000; California holdings, $2,782,000; New Mexico, Texas and Mid-Continent holdings $1,548,000.

"On present outstanding shares which now total 1,840,014, this represents a value well in excess of $4.00 per share for properties alone.

"Canadian interests will also be [illegible] actively represented through the election to the board of Hon. Manion Doherty, Toronto, formerly member of Parliament from Ontario, and Lieut.-Colonel Victor Spencer, director of Spencer's, Limited, Vancouver, both of whom have been closely connected with the oil development in Canada."

Calgary Oil News

(Miller, Court & Co., Ltd.)

Designed to cope with the peculiar conditions at the well, new separation apparatus will be installed shortly at Calmont No. 2, stated J. C. Dallas. Two new separators, particularly made to accommodate high pressure, have been ordered from Tulsa, Okla., and should be here in a few days. Calmont No. 1 was drilling in very hard lime at 227 feet, in the formation, at a total depth of 5,680 feet. Calmont No. 4 was drilling below the Dalhousie sands at 4,545 feet, while preparations were being made at No. 7 to resume through cement at the top of the lime.

Eastcrest No. 2 was thought to be nearing the Belemnite bed yesterday. The bit was making steady progress at more than 4,000 feet. Some progress has been made recently in fishing operations at Homestead, but the hole is not yet clear of the lost tools.

A.P. Consolidated No. 1, Turner Valley, is on a production test, but it will be a few days before we shall have anything to announce on daily rate, stated Russell Forbes, general manager of the company, last night. The well was shot with 600 quarts of nitro at more than 200 feet with more encouraging showings of crude oil. Mayland No. 2 has been cemented in the top of the limestone, and the usual period of about ten days is being given for cement to harden before drilling is resumed.

WHEAT FIRMER AFTER DROP AT THE START

Prices Make Steady Advance—High Western Temperatures Cause Short Covering

FEW RUST REPORTS NOW DRIFTING IN

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, July 8.—Wheat opened erratic and sharply lower this morning, but quickly took on a firm tone when a general short covering movement got under way and prices advanced steadily. The short covering movement was brought about by the high temperatures prevailing throughout the West yesterday and again today, which were running from 85 to 91 in many areas.

Offerings were not very liberal, but Chicago interests appeared to be the best sellers, which was understood to be against purchases of their own futures at the board differences. New York was also selling here during the first period, but later was reported to be a good buyer in the Chicago market. The Pool was reported to be selling on the upturn, but this was doubtful. There were some unfavorable reports coming in from the West or from Southern Saskatchewan, indicating that the crop was suffering from lack of moisture, while a severe hailstorm did considerable damage in Central Alberta and Western Saskatchewan. Miles of telegraph wires were down and accurate reports of the extent of the damage were impossible to secure, but apparently it was heavy in some of the areas.

A few rust reports were also drifting in from North Dakota, causing some anxiety as regards the Manitoba crop, which is in excellent condition at the present time. Overnight export sales were again very moderate and confined mostly to scattered lots. The demand for cash wheat was very indifferent and buyers inclined to back away on any indications of round lots coming out. Spreads were generally unchanged, with an easier tendency. Mills still continue to report export flour business as extremely dull and domestic only moderate. There were a few scattered thunder showers in the West the past twenty-four hours, and somewhat lower temperatures are promised in Saskatchewan for Wednesday, with the probability of showers in all three provinces.

Liverpool was weak and the foreign demand for wheat was reported as slow and offerings are free. Sentiment is becoming a little more friendly. Futures closed 1 1-4c higher.

There was some short covering in the coarse grains and these markets followed the trend of wheat.

Resistance Maintained Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, July 8.—Whitney, of Wall Street Financial Bureau, says:

The support which was so necessary to a market which had arrived at the critical point today was forthcoming in line with expectations, with the well advertised bear drives during the day, disclosing that firm resistance was being encountered just where it should be. As pointed out here yesterday, it was most important that the market should receive this support at this point in order to prove that it had sufficient strength to make a definite stand at what would constitute bad points to be broken.

It was also pointed out that today's performance practically necessitated the appearance of sufficient rally to take it out of danger. The rally which actually occurred was, judged by ordinary standards, nothing to get excited about, but, nevertheless, one which plainly showed that enough stock was being bought to prevent raids from gaining any headway.

I believe the significance of the whole performance is that it shows us the stand which is being taken by large interests as to the remaining amount of time it will take for business to turn up, and believe it represents their viewpoint that this turn is near enough at hand so that, in spite of whatever further delay or further adverse developments occur in the intervening period, they are willing to carry stocks through both what remaining time and bad news there is left.

From everything I can find, I see no need of changing the previously expressed opinion that mid-August will bring forth definite signs of business improvement. This opinion was expressed here on the first of the month as a result of what could be learned from business leaders inclined to look below surface developments and current news. It was then expressed as my candid opinion that the next five weeks would bring forth concrete evidence of sufficient business improvement to constitute a fundamental market stimulation, so lacking then, and for that matter, still so.

A little over a week of this period has already passed, and I believe the remaining weeks are going to be the means of justifying the prediction. The troublesome point, however, to those who are looking for action in the day-to-day market is that they are not going to get much of it until such time as we get a little nearer to this turn. It may come sooner than expected, but certainly I think that in so far as this week is concerned you can expect little, if any, significant movement in the market with the one possible exception that an additional test of the bottom will be made which, if lacking in any great movement of prices, will, nevertheless, be highly significant in that it will definitely establish the fact that we have made a market bottom which is going to stand until such time as fundamental business factors provide the basis for actual advance.

TRADING UPON STOCK MARKET IS VERY DULL

BIG MISSOURI PRICE IS DOWN

VANCOUVER, July 8.—The local Stock Exchange suffered one of the dullest full-day sessions in its career today. Prices weakened somewhat in the light trading. Home Oil led its section of the list with a drop of 7c to $3.85 on a turnover of only 400 shares. Calmont was off 2c at $1.03.

Big Missouri was the only issue among the mines to draw any attention, and it sank 6c to 55c.

WOOL CLIP SETS CARIBOO RECORD

Assistance Given by Markets Branch Results in Big Reduction in Freight Rates

Increased wool production from the Cariboo district during the season just closed is revealed in word received by the markets branch of the Department of Agriculture from G. A. Luyat, district agriculturist. He reports that the bulk of the clip has now been shipped, and, while no figure was given, it is understood the shipments will be approximately 87,000 pounds, an increase of about 17,000 pounds over the output during the 1929 season.

The clip now being sent to the warehouses at Weston, Ont., is only the third to the sent from the Cariboo district. Each year the production has increased, and another favorable season is expected next year, as the lamb crop this year is reported to be unusually high, the natural increase being more than 100 per cent in most parts of the district.

FREIGHT RATE CUT

As the result of efforts made by the markets branch in co-operation with the P.G.E. Railway, freight rates on the wool clip have been greatly reduced this year, the cut being almost 1.5 cents per 100 pounds, an important consideration in the final computation of profits.

Last year the cost in freight was $3.58 per 100 pounds, according to the markets branch. The wool was shipped to Clinton, transported by trucks to Ashcroft and there again loaded on railway cars. This year a special commodity rate has been arranged and as a result the freight cost has ben reduced to $2 26 per 100 pounds. The wool is brought to Squamish, taken by barge to Vancouver and thence to Ontario by rail, thus eliminating the trucking and related costs.

REGARDS REPLY AS A SETBACK

French Press Claims Italy's Attitude to Briand's Proposals Is Equivalent to Rejection

PARIS, July 8.—The French press today generally regarded the Italian reply to Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's proposal for a European federation of states as a setback.

Excelsior said it raised such objections in principle and method as to be equivalent to rejection. Oeuvre, organ of the Left, called it a "monument of cynicism and trickery."

Journal found that it had the allure of transportation of a French theme into an ultra demagogic key. Matin took a more favorable view, observing that the reply offered suggestions which were sometimes most interesting, but which might in certain cases make work very difficult.

Petit Parisien also was of a more optimistic mind but remarked that it seemed rather difficult to reconcile respect for the League of Nations with Rome's demand for admission into the union of states like Turkey and Soviet Russia, which up to the present have refused the Geneva alignment.

Since the report that nearly 900 tons of ash, dust and tar settled in every square mile of the city in the last year, Newcastle-on-Tyne has been declared to the dirtiest place in England.

COMPANIES FILE ON BIG ACREAGE

Alberta Consolidated and Canadian Exploration to Work at Sullivan Lake

(Meharey, Roe & Co., Ltd.)

With 50,000 acres of potential oil lands filed on by Frontier Development in the Sullivan Lake District, southeast of the town, and a further 40,000 acres taken over by Alberta Pacific Consolidated in the same district, the town of Castor, Alberta, has suddenly assumed a position of importance in the oil situation of the province. In addition to the two major filings, local reports show that considerable acreage has been secured in the Sullivan Lake field by smaller companies and individuals, local business men also taking over around 400 acres during the past weekend.

Much of this acreage had been taken up some time ago, and at present Young Petroleum has a contract under consideration by the people of the town of Castor for a gas franchise, which will be voted on this month.

Originally the filings were laid at the door of the Dutch Shell Company, which has figured in a vast number of Alberta rumors recently. F. W. Rowher, of Canadian Exploration, was known to have been busy in the field for some time, and, as he refused to divulge the interests he represented, rumor associated his activities with several of the major United States companies.

Although statements from both companies declare that holdings in this instance are held independently, arrangements have been made for the carrying out of a core drilling campaign over the structure by the combined efforts of the companies. In many other portions of the province A. P. Consolidated held acreage jointly with Canadian Exploration, of which Frontier Development is a subsidiary.

General Manager Forbes, of Alberta Pacific Consolidated, said that a core drilling campaign would be launched immediately under the auspices of the two companies to obtain full knowledge of the structure and obtain geological data regarding its extent and direction. The work is expected to be started during the coming week. More than fifty core drilling tests are projected over the field. As this work will take a considerable time, it is thought probable by officials that the first deep test well on the new structure will not be commenced until next year.

It is estimated that limestone will be reached at about 3,500 feet, giving a comparatively shallow potential production depth.

The acreage filed on is in the same general direction as that in which the Hudson's Bay Oil & Gas Co. has already made preparations for drilling its first well. The latter structure, however, is on Paintearth Creek.

Lady Willingdon Will Give Honorary Medal of Merit to Miss A. Van Horne at St. Andrew's, N.B.

SAINT ANDREWS, N.B., July 8.—Representing His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada, Lady Willingdon will officiate here tomorrow afternoon at the opening of the Boy Scouts' gymnasium, and at the same time will present the honorary medal of merit to Miss A. Van Horne, daughter of the late Sir William Van Horne, former president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in recognition of her work for the Boy Scout movement in Canada. Lady Willingdon will represent the Governor-General in his capacity of Chief Scout of Canada.

During her stay at Saint Andrews, Lady Willingdon, who is planning to return to Quebec next Friday, is taking advantage of the recreational facilities afforded by this famous seaside resort.

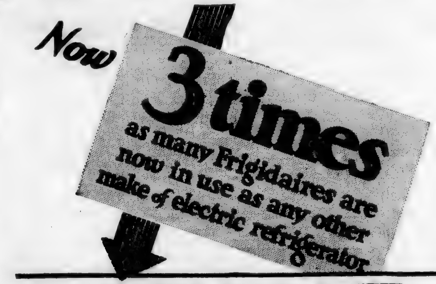

The private beach and golf course of the Algonquin Hotel, which is operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, have been put at her disposal, and, on the first day of her visit, Lady Willingdon went swimming at 7:30 in the morning, and followed this exercise with nine holes of golf on the links of the Algonquin Hotel.

To increase congregational singing the Church of Ireland is holding a series of musical festivals in leading cities of the Irish Free State.

Visitors at hotels in Seville, Spain in April numbered four times those in the same month of last year.

...and today we announce the NEW—
MULTI-COLD FRIGIDAIRE
5 types of refrigeration in one cabinet

And still more important to you as a purchaser is the fact that year after year Frigidaire continues to give satisfaction—long after the guarantee has expired.
If service should be required it is rendered instantly and without removing the machine from the premises.

Free desserts and recipe books
There's no other refrigerator like it. It offers moist cold, dry cold, normal freezing, zero freezing, and cold just above freezing—all within the same cabinet. It has a special compartment where you can keep ice cubes, desserts, and other foods indefinitely. Come in—today.

INVITATION

Sunny lakes and beaches,
Timber, straight and tall,
Drooping fern that reaches
To the waterfall.
Fluffy mist that capers
Softly with the dawn,
Mountain peak that tapers
Into cloudy spawn.
Rivers, romping madly,
Maples, Summer-dressed,
Breezes beckon gladly,
"Play with us, and rest!"

AND THE ANSWER IS
"We're on our way—we know Vancouver Island's loveliness!"
So Fill Up the Coaches and Away!

And don't forget that trip to the gorgeous Butchart Sunken Gardens. Eight trips daily. A coach about every hour and a half. So you can stop over and enjoy them at your leisure.

St. Lawrence Hydro Development Will Cost $274,000,000

The duty assigned to the conference was "to report respecting the most effective and economical method of developing the international rapids section, while at the same time fully safeguarding Canadian territorial and all other Canadian interests in the purely national, that is to say, the Canadian, section of the river."

Meetings were held in Ottawa in March, 1929, and there followed a series of comprehensive investigations into all phases of the project.

CONCLUSIONS

Special study of relative economy of the various projects as related to time of completion and markets for power led the conference to the following conclusions:

"A. That the international rapids section of the St. Lawrence River should be improved by means of what is commonly known as a two-stage or double-stage project.

"B. That the upper dam and power houses of such two-stage project should be placed at Chrysler Island.

"C. That the lower dam of such two-stage project should be placed at the head of Barnhart Island.

"D. That the power houses of the lower development should be placed across the channel between Barnhart Island and the Canadian mainland, with Bergen Lake, situated north of Sheek Island, constituting part of the headrace leading to these power houses."

GALOP RAPIDS CONTROL

It is an economic necessity, the report says, that the natural control of Galop Rapids be removed.

The flow of water should also be controlled at the Chrysler Island dam by the operation of gates and turbines in such a manner as would pass the discharge determined by an approved regulation of Lake Ontario outflow.

PREMIER OF FRANCE WINS HOUSE TEST

The manoeuvre of the Opposition was well directed and put the Government in danger. Tardieu mounted the rostrum and contested the facts as reported by the Opposition. He declared the prefect had acted rightly because the manifestation was a political manoeuvre directed against the Government and could not be permitted without undermining the Government's authority.

The vote required verification. When it was announced before the official recount that the Government had a majority of only ten, the whole Senate was in turmoil. Several Senators changed their votes, and when the official result was announced the Government was found to have been sustained by 140 against 135 votes.

When the news arrived in the Chamber of Deputies the Government was in difficulty in the Senate, groups of the Opposition became active.

ATTACKS LAUNCHED

The closeness of the vote encouraged the leaders to make an attack on their own account. They proposed a resolution demanding the Government accord special furlough to all farmers' sons in the army.

Andre Maginot, Minister of War, and Premier Tardieu explained the progressive reduction of the military service from three years to two, then to eighteen months and finally to one year made it impossible to grant furloughs in excess of the twenty-five days accorded every conscript.

Tardieu proposed the question of confidence and won by a majority of 53, the supporters of the Government rallying 328 votes against the 265 of the Opposition.

BREAD INSPECTOR TO BE APPOINTED

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Appointment of a bread weight inspector will be made by the City Council next Monday on recommendation of Charles Jones, licence inspector, Mayor W. H. Malkin announced today. The decision was the result of a closed meeting of the select committee of the City Council, which also ordered that all prosecutions for short weight under the new by-law would be made of bakers manufacturing the bread found [illegible] weight and not the grocer or retailer selling it. The responsibility for enforcement of the new by-law will rest with the licence department.

No New Outbreak Among Doukhobors

NELSON, July 8.—There were no new outbreaks among the Doukhobor colonies near here yesterday. Outrages over the week-end when a school was burned, one dynamited and a community hall fired, are all that so far, have startled the people in the Kootenay district.

Six hundred members of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, who deserted their homes at Glade following the dynamiting of the school there, had not returned to their homes last night. A meeting of community Doukhobors was held at Pass Creek yesterday.

According to Chief Rankin, of the Saanich Police, Brand was driving north on Rithet's Hill in company with Branch, while Harrup and his wife were proceeding in the opposite direction. As the Brand car was nearing the foot of the hill, it swerved suddenly and went across to the other side of the street and collided head-on with the approaching automobile. The force of the impact turned the Harrup car around and knocked it up against the fence on the opposite side of the road.

POLICE SEE ACCIDENT

Saanich police saw the accident from a distance and rushed to the scene and took the injured people to the Saanich Health Centre, where first aid was rendered by Dr. Berman, Chief Rankin and Constables Cummings and Ball, of the Saanich police. After having their injuries attended to, the occupants of the cars were taken to their homes.

The Harrup car was practically demolished, both front wheels were torn off, while the left mudguard, running board, rear fender and back of the car were ripped off. The roof was broken in two and the drive shaft torn out of the car, was protruding from the side.

One front wheel was torn off the car driven by Brand, while the radiator was pushed back onto the engine. The front bumpers were broken off and thrown across the road, while the front mudguards and axle were twisted. The windshield was shattered.

PLEDGE FOR FUEL POLICY IS RENEWED

faith and contributed to the national wealth, and if elected to office we will provide the facilities necessary for you to compete on even terms with the nations of the world. That is my conviction and it is a boundless obligation to you."

Touching upon fisheries and agriculture, Mr. Bennett declared, "the collective power of the Dominion must be put behind the development of the agricultural and fishing industries because they are the great food industries upon which lives depend."

ORGANIZED EFFORT

Co-operation and organized effort on the part of fishermen "aided by the Government," he declared, was the only way to make the fishing industry profitable. "What has the Government done in this regard during the past eight years?" the Opposition leader questioned. "What has the appointment of the Minister of Fisheries (Dr. Cyrus MacMillan) done for you to help you towards prosperity? Has the Government done anything that will justify its return to power? American fish to the value of $7,000,000 were being imported annually from the United States, Mr. Bennett remarked, and he continued to emphasize the importance of preserving the home market for Canadian fishermen.

The unemployment caused by the neglect of the iron, steel and coal industries, the Conservative leader asserted, had deprived fishermen and agriculturists of Cape Breton especially, and of the Maritimes, of their "home market."

DUMPING OF SURPLUS

The whole fiscal policy of the Liberal Government, Mr. Bennett declared, "had made it easier for the product of cheap labor and longer hours of foreign countries to get into this Dominion, and made its easier for the United States to dump the surplus of its mass production into Canada. This was most unfair, he emphasized, to Canadian labor. At the Winnipeg convention of 1927, the Conservative party had pledged itself to a fuel policy and the policy of "Canadian goods through Canadian ports." Both of these pledges, he declared, would be carried out by his party.

"You realize," Mr. Bennett declared, "that the nations of the world have been drawing on our rich storehouse of natural products, our mineral products will never come back again, our forest resources will never come in the lifetime of the youngest child here. So it is that, year after year, we have been selling our capital assets."

What had been done with the money received from the depletion of our natural resources, Mr. Bennett questioned. "Have we developed our own country?" he asked. "Have we utilized the vast sum we received from the sale of our assets in building new factories and new mills and thereby replacing the loss of our capital assets by new factories and mills to provide work for Canadians?"

SENT TO UNITED STATES

What had been done, the Conservative chieftain went on, with the $1,000,000,000 received annually from the sale of products? Of this amount, he declared, $968,000,000 had been sent to the United States last year to buy goods. "But out of every dollar sent out of this country last year," Mr. Bennett said, "to buy goods, sixty-seven cents had been sent to the United States."

The Opposition chieftain spoke in the Labor Temple Hall to an audience composed largely of miners. Scheduled originally for an open-air meeting, the inclement weather drove the crowds to the hall. The building was packed. Earlier he addressed a large gathering at St. Peter's, constituting fishermen and agriculturists. At both meetings there was a good attendance of women. Tonight he spoke in support of I. D. MacDougall, standard bearer of Inverness.

His speech at St. Peter's was an endorsation of Dr. J. A. MacDonald, Conservative candidate for Richmond, Cape Breton West. To both of these standard bearers Mr. Bennett paid tribute.

Interlachen Course Mark Broken Again

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8.—Golf such as Interlachen had never seen before was pulled out of its narrow fairways and lively greens today, when two 69's were shot in practice preliminary to the national open, which begins Thursday.

Two players who previously have been held to 76's and more walked off the eighteenth green with the new course record, first Henry Ciuci, young pro from Stratford, Conn., and soon after Whiffy Cox, Brooklyn, a product of the public links.

They bested by a single stroke the record set yesterday by Bobby Jones, defending champion, and Leo Diegel, ranking pro. Par is 72, thirty-six strokes for each nine.

T. P. Perkins, former British champion and a veteran of tournaments, turned in 72.

PESHAWAR, India, July 8.—Renewed activity by marauding Afghan tribesmen was reported today from scattered posts along the border of the Northwest frontier province.

In reply British airplanes have made a demonstration over three tribal villages.

Flocks of emus which come out of the bush to frolic with sheep and pigs, are causing settlers much annoyance in the Wangarabelle district near the border of Victoria and New South Wales.

CHILE ABOLISHES DEATH PENALTY

Life Sentences Also Done Away With—Judges Given More Discretion

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 8.—Abolition of the death penalty and of life sentences are among some of the outstanding features of Chile's new penal code. Other innovations include the imposition of fines according to the income and financial obligations of the convicted person; indeterminate prison sentences, depending on the reformability of the criminal in each special case; similar penalties for attempted as for accomplished crimes, and equality of responsibility for accomplices as for actual perpetrators; elimination of adultery (on the part of a woman) as a criminal offense, inasmuch as adultery cannot be considered a crime for a woman and not for a man.

The entire penal code, is based on modern conceptions of penology and scientific probes in the fields of psychology, sociology and biology. The emphasis is throughout on the prevention of crime, not on mere punishment, and on the reform of delinquents. The personal factor, consequently, and the background and environment of the individual, assume a preponderating role in the passing of judgment on a criminal. Foreign scientific penal legislation, particularly Swiss, German and Swedish projects, have been drawn upon in the formulation of Chile's new code; with necessary modifications made in order to adapt it to the peculiar needs of the country.

In connection with the new code (now before Congress) a vast programme of prison reform is under way in Chile, including not only the erection of model new buildings, but also the reorganization of prison procedure and administration along scientific lines. The new code also will demand judges with knowledge of criminal psychology and criminal sociology, seeing that the code allows judges so wide a range of action that proper discrimination of delinquents is almost entirely a matter to be decided by the court's own judgment.

TRADE UNIONS' STRENGTH GROWS

Membership Increases by Hundreds of Thousands Despite Bad Business Conditions

LONDON, July 8.—Membership in trade unions throughout the world has grown by hundreds of thousands despite bad business conditions, a comprehensive survey of the activities of the International Federation of Trade Unions is afforded by the report for 1927, 1928 and 1929, which will be submitted to the Stockholm Congress this month.

The report disclosed that the membership of the I.F.T.U. now totals more than 13,000,000. Three more national centres have affiliated, those of Greece, Estonia and Southwest Africa. The international trade secretariats have also increased their membership in over 13,000,000. Great efforts have been made during the period under review to establish relations with non-affiliated organizations and national centres. These efforts, which were not confined to Europe, but were extended to countries in every continent, are fully described in a special section, great attention being given to the American Federation of Labor and the Pan-American Federation of Labor.

One of the reasons why these efforts have not been attended with the hoped-for success is that, as is shown in the report, the I.F.T.U. by its constitution may only admit national centres and in three out of five non-European continents trade unionism is only slowly beginning to concentrate in national centres. The guiding lines laid down by the I.F.T.U. in respect to the admission of Russian unions to the trade international have been strictly observed. The report makes it clear that Moscow's influence in these organizations has greatly declined during the last three years.

Accused: "I was only trying to be a peace-maker."

Judge: "But you knocked the man unconscious!"

"I know. But there was no other way to get peace."

News and Notes of the Interior

TRAIL BUILDING RECORD

TRAIL—Building permits in June to a total value of $120,850 brought Trail's total for the first six months of 1930 to $251,455, the city engineer's department reports. Two large permits—the hospital for $75,000, and East Trail residence addition for $22,850—made up the bulk of the total. Of the remainder ten permits totaling $18,820 were for new residences.

ORCHARD PROSPECTS GOOD

PENTICTON—Due to June rains, the irrigation reservoirs here will probably not be opened this season before July 15, which is about ten days later than last year. Furthermore, the soil is in much damper condition this year and the necessity for use of storage water is not so apparent. Present indications are that orchardists will be able to have storage irrigation in August, which is not usually the case in Penticton. June has been a splendid month for orchard and garden moisture, and earlier fears that this would be a particularly dry season because of the dry Fall and the light snow in the Winter, are being dissipated.

WILL REBUILD SCHOOL

DUNCAN PARK—A special meeting of the Slocan Park school district trustees decided to build a modern one-roomed school to replace the building burned, presumably by fanatical Doukhobors, on April 15. It will likely be built on the same site. The cost of the proposed school is estimated at $2,500.

KILLS MANY GROUNDHOGS

ASHCROFT—Ned Darbaugh, of upper Hat Creek reports that he killed 450 groundhogs in one day recently on his farm. Add to that the hundreds killed by others and the number would run up into many thousands during the season. The groundhog is the chief worry of the Upper Hat Creek farmers, and the people of that district would like the Government to assist in exterminating it. The farmers "dispose" of the groundhogs by placing poison in their burrows and closing the entrance. The fumes poison them and they come to the opening in efforts to escape and die there.

Shark Strands Itself on Strange Shore and Fails To Free Its Weight Again

Mystery is attached to a tragedy which happened on Monday at the time when most mysteries occur, between the hour of sundown and midnight. A quiet corner of Constance Cove, Esquimalt, was the scene, just where the end of Constance Avenue ends at the edge of a small grassy spot, through which a trail meanders to the beach, on which the tragedy was revealed early yesterday morning.

Everything in connection with the happening is more or less guesswork, except the moment that a great thirteen-foot shark came ashore with sufficient speed to prevent its getting away again. That can be determined within a reasonable time of its actual occurrence; but just what caused the great fish to strand itself and perish will probably always remain a mystery.

The sea monster was discovered yesterday morning with blood spattered over the beach nearby, indicating that there had been a terrific struggle before the end came. The only explanation one can advance for the great shark's position is that it was engaged in chasing some smaller fish or fishes and struck the beach with great force at extreme high water.

In color the dead shark is a dirty brown, slightly mottled, the underbody being a dirty white, the paunch being extremely generous in size, indicating no hard times under the water. Its mouth, about a foot across, contains flattened teeth, used for crushing shellfish, its chief food. Not a maneater, nevertheless there is nothing attractive in its appearance and one would not care to have it snuggling alongside one's body in the water, or care to be watched through its somewhat wicked-looking eyes.

Yesterday afternoon, when the tide floated the great dead fish, children playing on a raft amused themselves with towing it about, hauling it at last as high up on the beach as they could, where it will probably remain until a long tow will be necessary to put it beyond mortal sense of smell.

After Segrave's Record

COUNT Johnston-Noad, famous British motor boat driver, is planning to build another super-motor boat, to be named Miss England III. In this speed boat he hopes to beat the record made by his personal friend, the late Sir Henry Segrave. The new craft will cost $100,000 to construct, and will incorporate many of the features of the Miss England II, in which Segrave was killed after establishing a new world's record of 98.75 miles an hour.

SALMON RUNS ARE WEAK IN SOME PLACES

Expected Numbers Did Not Materialize at Smith and Rivers Inlets This Season

SITUATION GOOD ON THE ALBERNI CANAL

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Large runs of sockeye salmon, which were expected at Smith and Rivers Inlets, in consequence of excellent brood year reports, have so far failed to materialize, and returns from these districts have been disappointing, according to an announcement by Major J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries here.

In the Nass and Skeena River areas, however, reports to the Department of Fisheries indicate excellent returns.

Poor weather has also hampered fishing in the Smith and Rivers Inlet territory, so that to date escapement to the spawning grounds as well as the catch, has been below what was expected. Fishery officials are at a loss to account for the failure of sockeye to appear in large numbers.

The run, however, may be late, due to ocean feeding conditions, states Major Motherwell. Runs on certain inlets and rivers on the coast have often varied before.

Major Motherwell is pleased with reports from Alberni Canal. In this area the department has succeeded in rebuilding the sockeye runs, he states. When depletion set in, all fishing in the canal was barred for a period of five years.

Now, according to reports, fishing has not only been good for sockeye running to beds in the Sproat and Stamp Rivers, but there has been good escapement. Major Motherwell believes that this area has been successfully restocked. It is the only district in which the department has ever taken such drastic action as to ban all fishing for a five-year period.

LINDBERGH WIRES VIEWS TO GENEVA

Responding to Request From League of Nations, Famous Flyer Cables Comprehensive Outline

NEW YORK, July 8.—Responding to a request from the League of Nations for his views on the international aspects of commercial aviation, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has cabled to the transit section of the league a comprehensive outline of what can be done for flying.

He suggested, he told the Associated Press today, that now is the time, while airplanes of the world are in a formative stage, to establish principles and practices which will recognize that the airplane is going to break down national barriers and the prejudices of isolation.

His cablegram, sent yesterday, was calculated to reach Geneva on the eve of the opening of an international conference on commercial aviation.

FRENCH SHIP TO CATAPULT PLANE

Hour of Launching and Destination to Be Decided by Captain at Opportune Time

The French Line steamer Ile de France, first transatlantic liner to establish a ship-to-shore plane service, will resume that service on her present westbound trip. When she left Havre, July 3, for Plymouth and New York, she carried on her afterdeck a C.A.M.S. No. 37 amphibian, which will be catapulted from the stern of the liner when she is still far out at sea.

Whether the plane will head for New York direct, or go instead to Boston, is not yet known. Its destination, as well as the hour of its launching, will be decided by the commander of the Ile de France and the pilot of the plane, on the basis of which port will best expedite the mail. They will advise the New York office of the French Line when the decision has been made.

The plane is equipped with a Lorraine motor of 450 horsepower, has a speed range of 90 to 150 miles per hour and a cruising radius of about 350 miles.

Tatooing is being used by European beauty specialists to produce permanent rosy cheeks and ruby lips and to tone down noses of too-vivid hue.

Ss. Anyox Equipped for Doing Salvage Work

FORMERLY engaged in carrying ores from Northern British Columbia mines, when she was operated by the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Company, the Ss. Anyox has been fitted with salvage equipment and will be stationed at Vancouver, according to an announcement made by the Pacific Salvage Company, Limited.

This gives the salvage company a vessel at each of three ports on the British Columbia coast. The Ss. Salvage King is stationed at Victoria for services adjacent to the port, the West Coast of Vancouver Island, and for any need that might arise anywhere, no matter how distant, while the Ms. Salvage Princess is maintained at Prince Rupert and the Ss. Anyox at Vancouver.

Capt. T. Evans, former chief officer of the Ss. Salvage King, is in charge of the Anyox. The Ss. Anyox is 1,287 gross tons, 193 feet long, 39-foot beam, and was built in 1917.

BRITISH LINE KEEPS IN LEAD

HISTORY OF WHITE STAR COMPANY ONE OF PROGRESS AT ALL STAGES

Flag Had Its Origin in the Demand for Fast Passage to Australia in Gold Rush Days

With the arrival of Great Britain's greatest motor vessel, the Britannic, at New York on her maiden voyage, the White Star Line began another page of British maritime history.

The flag of the White Star has been flying now for over seventy years on ships plying the seven seas. It adorned the mastheads of a fleet of sailing clippers in the days long before steam propulsion began to effect such marvelous changes in the mercantile marine. The origin of the line dates from the great rush to the gold diggings of Australia, a period which embraces the transition from the old style of small sailing ships to the magnificent sailing clippers which carried the British mails, and from these to the new order of leviathan steamships now sailing under the White Star flag. The Britannic inaugurates a new stage in this unceasing progression, and shows that the management of the company today is as progressive as in the past.

The White Star Line has rendered great services to America, Canada and Australia. In the course of seven years its old clipper ships conveyed about half a million adventurers to Australia and brought about a revolution in Australian trade.

The sailing of the Britannic, too, marks another stage in the ever-expanding history of Liverpool—Great Britain's greatest seaport. For many years the White Star Company's chief sailings were from Liverpool to New York, but in 1907 the mail steamers on this service were transferred to Southampton. There is, however, a regular weekly passenger service from Liverpool to New York, with calls at Queenstown for the embarkation of Irish passengers, the steamers running on it averaging over 22,000 tons. In addition to the Southampton-Cherbourg-New York service, the company some years ago entered the Canadian trade (in which its steamers are among the largest operating), with sailings from Liverpool, Queenstown, Belfast and Glasgow. It is also engaged in the Liverpool, Boston and Philadelphia trade, and has a New York-Mediterranean service. The company also maintains services to Australia and New Zealand, and its vessels are the largest sailing to the Antipodes. The total tonnage of the company is about half a million.

Alike to America, Canada and Australia the inauguration of the Britannic is an event of first class importance, fraught with incalculable possibilities.

California Yacht Calls Northbound

Coming up the coast from San Diego on the way for an extended cruise in Alaskan waters, the Chalice, a forty-five-foot Diesel-motored yacht, arrived in Victoria with her owners, C. D. and Mrs. Boynton, of the California city aboard, and accompanied by a guest, Christopher Enholm.

The Chalice experienced rough weather on the coast, but the boat behaved seaworthily, according to the members of the party aboard. Six weeks will be spent in cruising Alaska waters, when the return voyage will be made to San Diego.

SILENCERS TO BE PLACED ON ALL EQUIPMENT

Canadian Pacific Mechanical Experts Make Successful Experiments to Stop Shock and Noise

TWO SLEEPING CARS ARE NOW EQUIPPED

MONTREAL, July 8.—Successful experiments have been concluded by mechanical experts of the Canadian Pacific Railway, under the direction of H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, in the use of a specially manufactured rubber product as shock-absorber and noise-eliminator on both passenger and freight equipment. All C.P.R. equipment constructed this year is fitted with this new article.

High quality composition rubber and steel pads, specially manufactured by a British firm, are placed on the car trucks wherever the motion of the car causes metal to come into contact with metal. Such sources of noise and jars, chief among which are the side bearings, centre plates, buffer stems and coupler shanks, are all being silenced by this recently discovered shock and noise absorber.

The composition rubber and steel pads, a product decided upon after a series of exhaustive experiments with compressed cork, compressed hair, felt and other compositions, are constructed with air spaces between the rubber parts, in such a way that the pads not only become highly resilient under pressure, but also tend to prevent any rebound, owing to a vacuum being set up in the air spaces.

Noise caused by the car trucks passing over bridges, cross-overs and switches is effectively muffled in this manner, and another great source of noise and shock caused by the constant motion of the car couplers and buffer-stems between two cars, is also effectively dealt with. To reduce this latter source of annoyance, all equipment is this year being fitted in such a way that the coupler-shank rests on a rubber pad, so that all movements of the coupler are cushioned. Up to now the buffer stems have rested on "wear-plates," but on all new equipment the wear-plates are held tightly in contact with the buffer stems by these resilient rubber pads, which, by taking up all the slack, are successful in eliminating rattle and other noises. Among the equipment fitted with these rubber cushions are fifty "S" type standard sleeping cars, two of which, the "Sharbot Lake" and "Shawbridge," are already in service.

GRAIN EXPORTS STILL DECREASE

Both American and Canadian Shipments Fall Below Totals of Previous Week

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Grain exports last week from the United States were 1,633,000 bushels as compared with 2,071,000 bushels the week before, and 1,828,000 bushels in the corresponding week last year.

Canadian grain shipped last week through United States ports was 482,000 bushels, against 1,342,000 bushels the week before, while total exports of North American wheat flour were 159,000 barrels last week, against 231,000 the previous week.

ALASKA EXCURSIONS

The trip to Alaska continues to be a favorite Summer diversion with tourists. The Ss. Dorothy Alexander arrived at Rithet piers from Seattle shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and sailed for Ketchikan at 6 o'clock with a full list of passengers.

The Princess Charlotte, Canadian Pacific Coast Service flyer, and a favorite vessel with excursionists traveling North, left here last night for Vancouver and will leave the latter port tonight on the northern trip with all her accommodation taken.

The young preacher had delivered an inspiring sermon on the beauties of married life. Two old women were heard discussing the sermon later. One said: "That was a fine sermon—and I only wish I knew as little about the subject as he does."

Son of the Gods

By REX BEACH

SYNOPSIS

Sam Lee, who looks "white," but is supposed to be Chinese, is a student at Eastern. Sam is intelligent, refined, good looking and an honor student and top-notch tennis player. But he finds that a social prejudice exists against him on account of his supposedly Oriental blood. Two college companions, Spud Gorham and Kicker Wade, induce Sam to take them out in his expensive car, with their girl companions. Alice Hart, one of the girls, becomes interested in Sam on the ride. But the party breaks up suddenly when the girls find that Sam has come to college as the son of Lee Ying, a wealthy Chinese importer of New York. Sam drives slowly back from the Bird Cage Inn alone, his thoughts full of bitterness. Alice Hart, an art student, sees the possibility of securing some share of Sam's wealth for herself. She calls him up and intimates that she is sorry for the snub Sam received.

CHAPTER III

A month had passed. Trees had leaved out. The side street where Alice Hart roomed was dark at night, for the branches of its elms met overhead and cast heavy shadows along the curb. Sam Lee stopped his car midway of the block and waited.

Alice was prompt, as usual. She materialized from the gloom, seated herself at Sam's side, and they were off.

In a breathless, earnest voice she thanked him for some gift he had sent her that day.

"Did you like it?"

"You know I liked it. But how did you cultivate such taste in women's things? A girl should distrust any man who can select dresses. It's an indication of bad character."

Sam laughed, his companion drew her shoulders together, hugged herself, nestled closer to him.

Following that first telephone call Sam had sent Alice a box of flowers: they were the finest, the longest-stemmed roses she had ever seen. A gift so expensive demanded acknowledgment, so she had called him again. They had chatted at greater length this time and somehow she had mentioned that car of his. In answer to his diffident invitation she had said of course she would enjoy a ride, any evening. That had been the beginning. Sam was not doing so well in his studies now as heretofore, but he was happier and more contented than at any time since coming to Eastern, and he was getting to know the roads outside the city by heart.

Alice's work at art school was confining: she was a country girl and she loved fresh air. These restful excursions had proved a blessed relief and she often declared it was nice to have a friend like Sam. Not a Spud Gorham or a Kicker Wade, but a dependable, solid, comfortable friend who possessed a serious mind and who respected girls.

Alice talked a good deal about her work, her ambitions and her sacrifices. Miss Hart was always in deep earnest about her art, but other matters she treated more lightly, and usually she was full of fun. There was a distinct charm about her, for she had a curious knack of talking confidently about herself and her personal concerns, and of showing the warmest interest in other people's affairs. She was some indefinite number of years older than Sam—nevertheless, she deferred to his wisdom in a flattering manner.

Their friendship had proven very wonderful, deeply intoxicating to the boy: it had expanded him, he was a different person.

Alice had treated him with an odd mixture of friendliness and constraint, at first: she had appeared to be attracted to him, nevertheless she had been suspicious, fearful of his advances. When he failed to make any, her shyness wore off and they became real pals. She was at all times eager to go out with him but diffident about being seen in public places and explained this on the ground that she lacked the means to dress becomingly.

One evening, however, she did consent to go with him into a small clam chowder place, where they were not likely to be recognized and there they discovered an orchestrion which played discordantly when nickels were fed to it. Alice was surprised to learn that Sam could not dance and she volunteered to teach him: thereafter they dropped in whenever they passed the place. It was great fun and Alice declared he was rapidly becoming one of the best dancers she knew, if not the very best.

Pleasing as she was in most ways, the girl possessed one characteristic which disappointed Sam, she had a discontented mind and suffered periods of intense despondency: she was likely to break out in a virtriolic and utterly reasonless tirade against her luck, her condition, her lack of opportunity. This feeling of inferiority, amounting almost to a complex, mystified Sam, for he had never known the pains of self-denial, and poverty in Chinese eyes is no social bar sinister—not even a handicap. When he made this plain to her, she was surprised, she could not believe that he was in earnest or that he could cherish any real regard for her, a mere nobody. To be sure, she was a student, an intellectual, an artist, but what of that? Those things might count in China but not here.

Although she always appeared to Sam neatly and tastefully dressed, she nevertheless was overconscious of her poor appearance, so he began giving her little luxuries which he felt sure she could not afford to buy; a box of lacy handkerchiefs, for instance, or a few pairs of gloves, silk hose and the like. When she protested he assured her they were mere trifles.

"Trifles to you, a wild extravagance for me," she told him.

Sam smiled faintly. "It seems to me you have so much."

"In heaven's name what? Health, youth, a fair amount of good looks. How much will they bring?"

"The quest of knowledge is the most honorable of pursuits. You'll be a great artist."

"Never! Why? Because I won't have the chance. It takes time and money to become an artist. I'll go back to Bartonville with a smattering of art, just enough experience to make me hate everything else, and to keeping house, cooking, washing, playing nurse-girl. I can see it coming and——I'd rather die."

"We have a proverb which runs, 'The more unlikely I am to be successful, the more diligently will I study.' It's quite a fine thing to be steeped in the sayings and the philosophies of an ancient, thoughtful people: it's a short cut to experience. We Chinese children are taught stories, as well as apothegms, and many of them have to do with scholars who acquired culture, made much of themselves, under difficulties infinitely greater than yours. They're a spur to diligence: one of the very fine stories we're told is about the boy who had no money for a lamp and caught fireflies to light the pages of his book."

"Your stories, I notice, are all about boys."

"There are too many women in China."

"There are too many women everywhere, and I'm one of the surplus. No fireflies come our way. We dream——of Paris, life, and go back to our Bartonvilles and our patent wringers." Again the speaker uttered a resentful sound.

Following this conversation Sam made bold to present Alice with gifts somewhat more substantial than heretofore. Today he had sent her a dress, and in view of her ardent gratitude he took occasion, later in the evening, to broach another matter to which he had given much thought. He began cautiously by telling Alice something about his father. He had never said much about Lee Ying but tonight he informed her that the importer was a man of wide but unobtrusive charities. Lee Ying did much to help those deserving of assistance, regardless of race: he was deaf to no appeal. It was his money, for instance, which the speaker lent so liberally to the boys who honored him with their friendship and his father approved of the loans. The old man was forever urging his son to do more for those less happily situated than he, arguing that help at this time might be of inestimable value to them in later life. Sam wondered if Alice would take it amiss if he offered her the same sort of assistance he rendered fellows like Gorham and Wade.

"You mean——money?"

"Exactly. Understand, it's not mine, it's my father's. He considers it a privilege to aid any one engaged in the pursuit of a higher science."

"I couldn't do that," Alice exclaimed hurriedly. "I feel wretched enough at letting you do as much as you've done. I——think I'd die if anybody found out. Please don't tell him anything about me: I don't want him, or anybody, to know."

"Have you told your people about me?"

"Good Lord, no! They're only looking for an excuse to send for me."

After a moment Sam announced gravely: "Under the circumstances, I'm afraid we'll have to give up these rides. I'd never forgive myself if I were to cause trouble between your family and you."

"Oh, Sam!" Alice laid a hand upon his arm and looked up into his face. "Don't you want to see me any more?"

He assured her quite honestly that he did want to see her, that he wanted to see as much of her as possible. He could not tell her how much her friendship had meant to him. "I'm the loneliest, hungriest fellow in the college, and I find nothing incongruous or improper in our friendship. But I'm not blind. I understand why you meet me in the darkest spot on your street: why you refuse to go out in public with me. It's a hard thing to swallow."

For a while they rode in silence, then Alice inquired: "Is it my fault any more than yours?"

"No. It's the fault of a senseless, formless prejudice which I hate because I can't understand it. For that matter, I hate clandestine things, too. We can't go on like this."

"Why not?"

"For one thing, I have a pretty stiff Chinese pride, and for another I've been taught filial obedience. You owe it to your people to observe their prohibitions."

"Indeed! . . . You remember that girl in the Chinese story? Chin Ting, wasn't that her name? Well, her people forbade her to go to the Feast of the Lanterns but the boy contrived her escape. Clandestinely. I guess people are pretty much alike, the world over, Chinese or American . . . It's rather exciting to be clandestine. There's a kick in it." Alice laughed in her intimate "cozy" tone and leaned closer to her companion. His heart pounded at her touch. "Don't let's get prudish in our old age, Sam. I'm not going to give you up. Not for some silly principle—some foolish prejudice. I'm too selfish."

A trifle thickly he told her, "I must either see more of you or——very much less."

"Very well, but with things as they are we can't go out in public——Oh, gulp down that Chinese pride of yours! One of us must be practical. I've learned to look facts in the face if you haven't . . . I used to be afraid of you——most fellows are so fresh when they get out alone with a girl——"

"How can we see more of each other?"

"I'm thinking . . . That valet of yours——"

"Moy?"

"Can you trust him? I mean, would he talk if——if I came to see you? . . . If you can't call on me without causing comment why shouldn't I call on you?"

"Would you——?"

"I don't know. If people persist in being so silly, must we let them interfere with our friendship? What they don't know won't hurt them . . . Sam! I want to see the lanterns."

"Tomorrow night," said the evangelist, "I'm going to talk about liars. Before the service I would like everyone to read the 17th chapter of Mark."

The following evening at the beginning of his remarks he said, "My subject tonight is 'Liars.' How many of you have read the 17th chapter of Mark?"

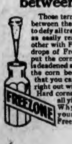

More than 200 hands went up.

"Those who raised their hands will pay particular attention," said the evangelist. "There is no 17th chapter of Mark."

Peter Meets Starnose

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

It nothing costs to be polite,
And furthermore, you know it's right.
—Peter Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit sat on the edge of the water watching Starnose the Mole swimming towards him. Up above sat Redwing the Blackbird. As Starnose drew near, Redwing flew down to a tussock of grass and began his familiar clucking sound. Instantly Starnose turned his head. "Hello, Redwing!" said he in a squeaky voice.

"Hello, Starnose," replied Red-Redwing. "I want you to meet a friend of mine."

"Who?" squeaked Starnose. "Whom do you want me to meet, and where is he?"

Just then Peter moved a little and instantly Starnose turned in his direction. "It is just Peter Rabbit," said Redwing.

"I thought it was a Rabbit," squeaked Starnose. "That's what it sounded like. How comes it I have never met Peter Rabbit over here before?"

"That's what I want to know," said Redwing. "Peter comes over here often enough, but he says that until today he never has seen you."

"Well, I never have seen him," squeaked Starnose, and then gave a funny little chuckle. Of course, he hadn't seen Peter because, as I have already told you, he cannot see people or things. All he can do is to tell light from darkness. Now he swam rapidly in to where Peter sat and climbed up beside him. Evidently his nose told him all he wanted to know. "How do you do, Peter Rabbit," said he.

"Very well indeed, thank you," replied Peter, in his most polite manner. "If I felt any better, I should feel too good. Is it true that you are cousin to Miner the Mole, who lives up on the Green Meadows?"

"I suppose I am," replied Starnose. "Do you see him often?"

"No," replied Peter. "In fact, I have seen him only two or three times in all my life. He certainly does like to keep out of sight. Do you stay under ground as much as he does?"

"Oh, I stay under ground a good deal of the time," replied Starnose. "Still, I like to come out once in a while. That's how I happened to be taking a swim just now. I certainly do like the water. Do you like the water, Peter Rabbit?"

Peter shook his head. Then he remembered that Starnose couldn't see him shake his head. "No," said he, very frankly, "I don't like the water. By the way, was it you who scared me so the other day?"

"Oh, I stay under ground a good deal of the time," replied Starnose.

"Don't ask me," replied Starnose. "I don't often scare anybody. How were you scared?"

"I was taking a little nap up there on the bank and suddenly the ground was pushed right up underneath me," replied Peter.

Starnose chuckled. It was a funny, squeaky little chuckle. "Was that you?" he squeaked. "Then I suppose it was you who scared me half to death right afterwards."

It was Peter's time to chuckle. "I thumped the ground hard enough," said he, "but I couldn't be sure that I scared anybody."

"Well, you did; you scared me," replied Starnose. "I didn't do any more digging over there for a long time."

"Then it was you and not Miner who made all those little ridges," said Peter.

"Certainly," replied Starnose. "Cousin Miner doesn't like such wet soil. He likes it where it is dryer. There are not earthworms enough over there to suit him. My, my, my, how that fellow does like earthworms! I like them well enough myself, but I can get along without them. He seems to think he must have them, so he stays where he is likely to find them. I want to be near water. Yes, sir, I want to be near water."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

SUMMER SQUASH

The Summer squash is a member of the gourd family, along with the cucumbers and melons. It is the same as the vegetable marrow of Europe and Canada, and is almost exactly like the edible gourds used in Spain and India.

As one cook has said, "Summer squash is mostly water—but what water!" For this reason it makes a good cleansing, cooling Summer vegetable. It is a very delicious addition to the everyday diet. Summer squash may be secured in most parts of the country during the season and should be used as much as possible when available.

Several varieties are used: Some are scalloped, some flat, some round, some crooknecked, some yellow, some white. The taste is very agreeable, being mild and bland. The squash of this group belongs to the non-starchy vegetable class and may be combined well with either a starch meal or a protein meal.

One particular kind of little Summer squash called Italian squash or zucchini, is green with stripes. Inside it is yellowish to white. It us used a great deal in Italy. These squashes may not be obtained in every market, but they are finely flavored when used young and are tender and of delicate taste.

Summer squash are classed with the alkaline foods, offering potash, lime and soda.

Squash has a number of qualities to commend it to the cook. It does not cost much, does not take long to prepare, and does not take long to cook. Since it cooks very quickly it does not warm up the kitchen on a Summer day. It needs no preparing, as the skin mashes up easily when cooked. The seeds are left in it. It should be washed, diced, and cooked in very little water, just enough to cover it, so that too much of the flavor does not cook out into the water. If carefully watched it is often possible to cook squash by cutting it up and adding no water at all, using a little butter instead. Squash cooked in this way will be sweeter and will lack that watery flavor which clings to a squash which has gone to a watery grave in the pan before it reaches the table. Most Summer squash is cooked in too much water, which renders it tasteless and unpalatable.

As Summer squash is a non-starchy vegetable, it may be combined with almost any other kind of food, and it, therefore, lends itself easily to many mixtures with other vegetables.

In tomorrow's article I will give you some recipes which are suggestions of a number of different ways for using Summer squash during the season. After reading these recipes I will be glad to have any of my readers send their favorite ways of preparing Summer squash, so that in future articles I may pass the recipes on to my readers.

A GENTLE HINT

Little Bobby was playing at Ronny's house, but when the time came for him to go home it started to rain.

"Oh, but don't take all this trouble!" said Bobby, politely enough.

"No trouble, Bobby," she returned. "I'm sure your own mother would have done the same for Ronny."

"Mother'd do more," replied Bobby. "She'd ask Ronny to stay to tea."

LIBERAL GOV'T AND LEADER ARE SCORED

EDMONTON, Alta., July 8.—Bitterly scoring the Liberal administration and its leader for alleged failure to take action towards solving the national unemployment crisis and allowing the crisis to be made more acute by the influx of new settlers to the Dominion, S. Woodsworth, Labor leader in the Federal House, addressed a capacity audience here tonight.

Mr. Woodsworth was speaking in support of the candidature of George Latham, Labor entrant in the Federal election on the East Edmonton riding, who also addressed the meeting.

Both speakers predicted that a co-operative group formed by labor and farmer members in the next House would be in the balance of power between the old line parties. They declared that if their predictions were justified they would press for immediate remedial measures such as some form of unemployment insurance.
